TEUTONS ATTEMPTING TO CUT OFF RETREAT OF THE SERBIAN ARMY

Germans, Austrians and Bulgarians Invading From Three Opposite Sides.

ARE HEAVILY RESISTED

Reported in Germany Rumania is About to Cast Lot With Entente Allies.

Little Change on Western or Eastern Front.

London, Oct. 29. — The Germans with their Austrian and Bulgarian allies are still making an attempt to cut off the retreat of the main Serbian army which is offering such spirited resistance to the invaders. While Field Marshal Von Mackensen's force advances slowly from the north, the Austrians have crossed the western border of Serbia south of Visegrad and are moving eastward, and the Bulgarians are marching westward on a wide front from Pirot, which lies southeast of Nish, to Zajecar, to the northeast of Nish.

Area Contains Serbia's Arsenal.

It is, of course, a long way across and the country is difficult to traverse, but the Serbians are bound to defend it as long as possible, as their great arsenal at Kraguyevats is situated in this area, and they will doubtless hold on with the hope of making an eventual retirement in the mountains along the Montenegrin frontier and in that country.

To forestall this the Austrians also are attacking in Montenegro, but have made little progress, as the Montenegrins under their veteran fighting king have had a long time to prepare for just such an event and thus far have beat off all attempts to throw them back. In fact, the Montenegrins hold some strong positions in Austrian territory out of which they will have to be driven before their own country is invaded.

Southern Area Unchanged.

There is no change in the southern area of Serbia so far as is known. The report that Uskup has been recaptured is not confirmed. The French, however, claim to have cleared the Bulgarians out of the Veles district. This, if true, would render Uskup an unsafe place for the invaders, in the opinion of military men. In what other way Serbia is to be assisted has not yet been disclosed. Some British troops are co-operating with the French in the south and others are on the way, but where they will be used remains a secret. Russia's plans also have not yet been disclosed, although from German sources it is reported that Rumania is about to throw her lot with the Entente Allies and will allow the passage of a half million of Russian troops through her territory to attack Bulgaria from the north.

Greece Friendly to Allies.

Greece has assured the Entente powers that her neutrality remains friendly to them and has pointed out that she already has given them assistance by permitting the landing of their troops at Saloniki.

On the other fronts there is little or no change in the situation. In the west artillery engagements remain the chief method of warfare, although there has been some trench fighting.

In the east the battle is still raging for Riga and Dvinsk which for nearly two months Field Marshal von Hindenburg has been endeavoring to reach, first from one point and then from another. During the past week the Germans have poured a perfect rain of shells on the Russian positions along a front of 150 miles, from the mouth of the Dvina to the south of Dvinsk, but although the Russians are falling back a little in the north, they have generally held firm and returned shot for shot which is taken here to indicate that their supply of ammunition is now satisfactory.

Russians Steadily Advance.

Through the Lake District between Dvinsk and Sventsyany, the Russians are steadily advancing and are approaching the Vilna-Dvinsk railway. In the south they also continue harrying the Austro-Germans by frequent thrusts. Emperor Nicholas and his son are visiting General Ivanoff in this region.

As the Germans are reported to have sent a part of General von Linsingen's army from this region to the Rumanian frontier to guard against a Rumanian attack on Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces in Serbia, important events are looked for along the Styr and in Galicia.

TOTAL BRITISH CASUALTIES.

CHANGE IN CHINA IS NOT APPROVED

Delay in Re-Establishment of Monarchy Suggested.

BY JAPANESE 'CHARGE

Because of Possible Internal Disturbances—Believed Russian and British Ministers Concurred in Suggestion.

Peking, Oct. 30.—The Russian minister M. Krupenski; the British minister, Sir John Newell Jordan, and 'Charge Obata, of the Japanese legation, consulted Foreign Minister Lu Cheng-Hsing yesterday at the foreign office concerning the possible results of China's change to a monarchical form of government.

'Charge Obata inquired whether President Yuan Shi Kai was confident that he could re-establish the monarchy without untoward results affecting the general peace in the Far East. He made a friendly suggestion on behalf of Japan that the change be delayed for some time at least, suggesting that disturbances in Shanghai and along the Yeng-Tse valley in South China indicated opposition to the movement. He disclaimed any desire on the part of Japan to interfere with Chinese internal affairs, but urged that with Europe engaged in a deadly struggle China's welfare as well as that of the entire world was dependent upon the prevention of further international disturbances. Absolute confirmation is lacking of concurrence by England and Russia in the Japanese position, but it is generally believed that the three powers acted jointly.

Lu Cheng-Hsing told M. Obata and his colleagues that the future form of China's government was absolutely in the hands of the people, who are now voting on the question. In consequence of this fact, the foreign minister added, he personally believed the government was powerless to delay action, as it might receive a mandate at the polls.

UNITED STATES SILENT.

Declines to Express Opinion Regarding Chinese Monarchy.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The United States has declined to express any opinion as to whether it approves the proposed change in China from a republic to a monarchy.

It became known today that some of the interested powers in seeking to sound out the Washington government informally had learned that the latter would take no step that might be construed as an interference in the national concerns of another sovereign state.

SEEMS TO BE NOTED YEGGMAN.

Man Held in Charlotte in Default of Bond of $10,000.

Charlotte, N. C., October 29. — The man arrested here Wednesday suspected of being a safe-cracker, who has operated over much of North and South Carolina, and who was held in default of $5,000 bail, is still in Mecklenburg county jail, United States Commissioner J. W. Cobb having raised the amount of bond required to $10,000. He says his right name is John F. Donaghue. Some of his known aliases are Brooklyn Slim, James Hackett and James Wells. Further investigation seems to indicate that he is one of the most noted yeggmen in the country. There was no formal arraignment of the prisoner, but he will be held for Federal Court under the charge of breaking into the North Charlotte postoffice in 1914.

BRYAN GOING TO CHARLOTTE

Will Speak There November 15—Newcomers to Charlotte Welcomed.

Charlote, N. C., Oct. 29.—A local committee in charge of charity fund for the Presbyterian Hospital of this city has received word from Hon. William Jennings Bryan that he would be here November 15 to deliver an address at the city auditorium. His subject will be announced later.

Newcomers' Night was observed last night by the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, which had invited all the recent newcomers to Charlotte to assemble in assembly room of the chamber for a reception and smoker.

MAY DECIDE COURSE TODAY.

Justice Department Officials to Confer in New York.

Washington, Oct. 29. — What course the Department of Justice will pursue in relation to Robert Fay and the other persons arrested in New York in connection with plans to interfere with shipments of munitions to the Allies, may be decided in New York tomorrow at a conference between Assistant Attorney General Warren and United States District Attorney Marshall. Mr. Warren left today for New York.

SHOE BILL DECLINES $90,000,000.

War in Europe Causes Americans to Economize on Foot Gear.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—In the fiscal year following the outbreak of the European war, the American shoe bill declined $90,000,000, according to John E. Wilder, president of the National Association of Tanners, in convention here. Mr. Wilder added that during the economical streak Americans made their old foot gear last longer, but that they were again in the market for new shoes as formerly.

PRESBYTERIANS IN BUSY CLOSING DAY

Free Summer Lodging House to be Built at Montreat.

E. C. MURRAY CLERK

...l to Succeed Rev. E. L. Siler. ...erintendent Crawford and ...vangelists Black and Jones Re-Elected—Adjourns.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Gastonia, N. C., Oct. 29.—The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina concluded its 102nd annual session here at 1:15 this afternoon, following a busy business session which began at 9 o'clock. The delegates left for their homes on afternoon and night trains, declaring the present session to have been one of the best as well as most enjoyable in the Synod's history. Just before adjourning the body adopted unanimously a set of resolutions thanking the local church and the people of the town for the splendid manner in which the delegates had been entertained.

Opening devotions were conducted this morning by Rev. G. F. Kirkpatrick.

A resolution was adopted accepting an offer made by the Mountain Retreat Association of a free site at Montreat on which to build a house where members of the Synod could have free lodging and where they could gather for rest and recuperation during the summer months. The task of erecting a quitable building on this site was put in the hands of a committee composed of A. T. McCullum, W. H. Sprunt, B. R. Sellers, Rev. W. McC. White, Rev. W. M Fairley and Rev. D. H. Rolston. They are authorized to provide the building but are restrained from incurring any debt.

Resolutions were adopted expressing Synod's regret at losing Asheville Presbytery and bidding that Presbytery god-speed in its work as a member of the new Synod of Appalachia.

On recommendation of the committee on Christian education and ministerial relief, the following actions were taken:

Directors as follows were appointed to serve on governing board of proposed new normal school to be established at Montreat for one year: Dr. A. D. McClure, to serve two years; W. H. Belk, to serve three years; Dr. H. G. Hill; second, Dr. W. J. Martin and Dr. C. G. Vardell were chosen members of the Assembly's permanent advisory committee on Christian education and ministerial relied. Third, important action was taken looking toward the co-ordination of all synodical schools and colleges.

Rev. E. C. Murray, D. D., was elected permanent clerk to succeed Rev. E. L. Siler. In the closing hour many other papers were read and adopted, mostly of routine nature.

Animated Discussion.

Following a lengthy and somewhat heated discussion last night Synod finally decided to appropriate the sum of $800 to the Asheville Presbytery. This is to be reduced annually by $200 until it is eliminated entirely.

MORGAN STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS

Financier Undergoes Operation at Glen Cove Home.

CASE IS A MILD ONE

Physicians Expect Prompt Recovery—Activity in Connection With Foreign Loan May be Cause of His Illness.

New York, Oct. 29. — J. P. Morgan, who had been at his desk a little over two months since recovering from the bullet wounds inflicted by Erich Muenter, the mad professor of languages, who attempted to kill the financier last July, is again confined to his bed, this time from an attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Morgan went through an operation today which three attendant specialists afterward described as successful in every way. The appendix was removed at noon by Doctors Markoe, Lyle and Smith; and the official bulletin issued shortly thereafter said Mr. Morgan was resting comfortably. Continued progress was reported, unofficially, during the afternoon.

The attack of appendicitis was mild in character, it was said, and the patient's condition was in now way attributed to the attempted assassination by Muenter. His general health his doctors said, was excellent, that his prompt recovery was confidently expected.

Mr. Morgan became indisposed yesterday and specialists diagnosed his ailment as a mild attack of appendicitis. Fearing a recurrence of the malady later, his physicians advised him to undergo the operation now. Accordingly, the operation was performed today at his home in Glen Cove, L.

NEW CABINET WITH A. BRIAND AS HEAD FORMED IN FRANCE

All the Opposing Parties and Factions in Parliament Are Represented.

IS A REMARKABLE BODY

Personnel Represents the History of Modern France Since Napoleon III.

Paris, Oct. 29. — A new French cabinet, headed by Aristide Briand as premier and minister of foreign affairs, came into existence tonight. This is the first time in the history of the French republic that there is a coalition ministry of all the opposing parties and factions. It follows closely on the recent innovation of forming a British coalition cabinet of conservatives and liberals.

Today's action in forming the cabinet was the culmination of a deep popular sentiment that at the supreme crisis of the war party division should give way to united action by all parties. Because the cabinet of Rene Viviani was representative of only a few political groups, the ministers presented their collective resignations and President Poincare immediately charged Aristide Briand with the formation of a new organization combining all elements.

Has Remodeled Personnel.

The resulting coalition is remarkable in personnel, including such venerable figures as Charles De Freycinet, who was one of Gambetta's aids in the upheaval of 1870; Jules Meline, a former premier, who instituted the protective system of France, and Leon Bourgeois, who is known as the "grand old man of the radical party," which has the largest membership in parliament.

The modern element is represented by conspicuous leaders of all the political groups of the country. Thus the new coalition brings together France's elder and younger statesmen, and in personnel represents all the history of modern France since the fall of Napoleon III. The new cabinet also is notable in having the popular military leader, General Gallieni, as the head of the war office, and Rear Admiral Lacaze as head of the ministry of marine, both of them replacing civilians.

Various Party Representatives.

The extent of the coalition is shown by the following representations from the various parties:

The radical party is represented by M. Bourgeois, a former premier; M. Combes, a former premier, and Rene Renoult, one of the foremost parliament leaders of the party. The republican-socialists have as members M. Briand, M. Viviana and Professor Painieveh

The social group is represented by Jules Guesde, and by Marcel Sembat and Albert Thomas, prominent socialist leaders. The democratic left has as members Gabriel Guisthau and Joseph Thierry, while the radical left has Etienne Clementel as its representative. The royalist and clerical element is represented by Denys Cochin.

All Parties Represented.

This embraces all the parties and groups in parliament, which for years have been arrayed against each other. Freycinet, Melines and Ribot belong to the old school of moderate tendencies, and are not identified with any of the parliamentary groups.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVEN BY A WOMAN KILLS CHILD

Mrs. Thos. E. Teasley to be Arraigned in Police Court.

Eight-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tolley, of Asheville, Meets Instant Death—Mrs. Teasley Prostrated.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 29.—Lillie Belle Tolley, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tolley, met instant death in front of the Orange street school building this afternoon shortly after 12 o'clock, when she was struck by the automobile driven and owned by Mrs. Thomas E. Teasley.

The woman, prostrate because of the accident, will be formally arraigned in police court Tuesday morning, according to the police.

Evidence introduced at the coroner's hearing was to the effect that the machine was being driven at a moderate rate of speed when the child attempted to cross the street in front of it and later, believing she could not avoid the car, turned in her steps and started toward that side of the street from which she came.

The victim of the accident was on her way home, her grade having been given a half holiday for excellence in attendance during the past month.

EXPLAINS ATTACK ON LINER ORDUNA

Note Significant of Warning to German Commanders.

ORDERS GIVEN JULY 9

Regarded as in Keeping With Last American Incident—Bark Normandie Was Allowed to Proceed.

Washington, Oct. 29.—A memorandum from the German government explaining the unsuccesful attempt of a submarine to torpedo the Cunard liner Olduna was made public here tonight. It reveals that as early as July 9, last, more than a month before the attack upon the Arabic, German commanders had instructions not to sink "large passengers steamers" without warning.

The document also contains the statement that the same submarine that attacked the Orduna halted the American bark Normandie, and, though finding her carrying contraband, allowed her to proceed unmolested because there was no guarantee that the crew would be rescued if left to their fate in small boats. This is regaded as significant in connection with the last note of the United States on the case of the William P. Frye, in which Germany was asked for assurances that if American vessels carrying contraband were sunk pending arbitration of treaty rights, the crews would not be subjected to the risk of small boats in the open sea.

The Orduna memorandum, dated in Berlin, September 9, was given out with certain other correspondence supplementary to the second installment of the so-called White Book issued yesterday by the State Department. Its text follows:

Text of Note.

"At about quarter past seven on the morning of July 9, last, a German submarine sighted a steamer from 3 to 5 miles away and a sailing vessel about a mile away. The steamer was proceeding without any flag or neutral markings and was taken for a small enemy steamer by the commander of the submarine on account of the difficulty of observation caused by the unfavorable weather. The commander der decided first to attack the steamer submerged and fired a torpedo at the vessel which missed its mark.

"Hoping to catch the steamer above the water, the submarine arose and chased the steamer on the surface. The steamer did not stop when a shot of warning was fired and therefore several shells were fired at her which did not strike her as the submarine was pitching about and the distance was great. The submarine then proceeded to the sailing vessel, which was shown to be the American bark Normandie bound from New York to Liverpool with a cargo of lumber. Although the cargo contained contraband, the sailing vessel was permitted to continue her voyage unhindered as it was impossible to guarantee that the crew would be surely rescued in the small boats if the ship were sunk.

"The first attack on the Orduna by

MELLEN IGNORANT OF HALL'S ACTION

For Influencing Legislation Favoring New Haven.

SURPRISED AT LETTERS

Believes None of Officers or Directors Knew of Their Existence—Efforts Were Made Against Steamboat Competition.

New York, Oct. 29.—Charles S. Mellen told the court, at the trial of the eleven directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company today, that he had never known of the political activities of the late John M. Hall, vice president and later president of the New Haven, influencing legislation in favor of the New Haven, nor as far as he knew was the existence of the numerous letters which Hall wrote on the subject known to other directors or officers of the company. Mr. Mellen made this statement before leaving the witness stand temporarily to permit the government to put in its testimony against the defendants covering the five-year period of his absence in the West, 1898 to 1903.

"I was paralyzed to discover," he said, "that I had been for ten years within reach of these letter-press copy books (containing the Hall letters), and never been blown up. I had no connection with these matters, direct or indirect. I never had any occasion to refer to them, nor do I know of any officer or director that did. I don't think they knew of them."

Nevertheless the government attorneys continued the introduction of more of the Hall letters which had to do not only with legislative matters, but with the alleged efforts of the New Haven to prevent steamboat competition. One of these letters instructed J. W. Miller, marine superintendent of

AMERICANS IN THE STATE OF SONORA ARE BELIEVED TO BE IN GRAVE SITUATION

COLUMBUS COUNTY HAS BIG RALLY DAY

Probably More Than 10,000 People in Attendance.

MISS WILLIAMS HURT

Many Prizes Awarded for Excellent Exhibits—Senator Smith Speaks. 2,000 Children in Parade. West-Whilock Band.

(By M. P. McNeely.)

Chadbourn, N. C., Oct. 29.—More than 10,000 people were estimated to have attended the Columbus County Educational and Agricultural Rally here today. Mr. O. M. Powers, who had charge of the exhibits, will send out tomorrow about 100 prizes to the fortunate ones who helped to show the visitors what can be done and grown in this county. It is estimated that more than 2,000 school children marched in the parade, representing different schools, or townships. A number of prominent men made addresses, chief of whom was United States Senator E. D. Smith, of Florence, S. C. The only accident to mar the day was that which befell Miss Jessie Williams, teacher in the fifth grade of the Chadbourn school, who was run over by a wagon, but her wounds, while serious, are reported to be not fatal.

The vast crowd gathered at Brown's grove to hear the address by Senator E. D. Smith, of Florence, following the parade. Senator Smith was introduced by Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Acme, who told of Mr. Smith's valuable services to the country in looking out for the cotton farmer before his election as Senator, and that Mr. Smith had been known as "Cotton" Smith for this reason. He also told of the active part taken by Mr. Smith in the United States Senate regarding the Federal Reserve bank system and that valuable assistance to the farmers.

Senator Smith was cheered when he arose, to the extent that he had to wait some time before beginning his speech. From the time he began until he closed Mr. Smith had the audience under his power. His address was one of the wittiest ever made in Columbus, and produced as many laughs as any musical comedy, while at the same time he impressed many deep truths upon the minds of his hearers. He recited many of the steps of progress he had noted in this part of the country, that he said was so near South Carolina that it was pretty good country.

The most important part of the speech was the clear explanation of how farmers could safely use the Federal Reserve bank at Richmond to save borrowing money, and at the same time hold their cotton for a better price and defeat the would-be masters of the situation. He says that financial crooks are no worse than the law makers who allow them to exist under the law.

Senator Smith paid a beautiful tribute to the motherhood of the country, told many interesting stories about the advantages of education, and commended American educators for developing a commercial people instead of a warlike people. He believes in adequate preparedness in a world of warlike people, but thinks that preparedness should be only as a surety of peace.

Until the last visiting automobile and last excursion train had pulled out, Chadbourn was strutting with polite manners and making all visitors feel welcome.

Accident Befalls Miss Williams.

The only sad feature of the day's happenings was the accident that befell Miss Jessie Williams, teacher of the fifth grade in the Chadbourn school, in which she was run over by a two-horse wagon and pretty badly hurt. Miss Williams was crossing the railroad tracks at the crossing just east of the Brown Hotel when a two-horse team, belonging to Mr. T. C. Clute and driven by DeVann Hill, colored, who had temporarily left it, ran away and one of the mules' shoulders struck her in the back and knocked her flat on her face, then both wheels of the wagon ran square across her body. The mules were running at a fast gait, but were soon stopped. Miss Williams was carried to the Brown Hotel and several physicians in the city were called to her relief. She was unconscious for some time, but the physicians said tonight that she would likely recover. Miss Williams' home is in Lakeland, Fla., and she is a sister to Mrs. Shelton, wife of Dr. Claude Shelton, of Chadbourn.

Exhibits and Judges.

Mr. O. M. Powers, as chairman of the exhibits committee, had his hands full all the day and paid special attention to every detail to see that all exhibits were given a proper showing. He also had charge of delivering the prizes, which he says he expects to spend several days getting straight.

The various judges all made their examinations hurriedly, as their time was limited, but did their best to examine every exhibit and be absolutely impartial. The judges of the school exhibits were Rev. A. H. Porter, Prof. W. J. Justus and Mr. Minos Meares. The judges of the culinary, fancy work, clothing, etc., were Mrs. Elmore Powell, Mrs. R. C. Carson, Mrs. L. Baggett, Mrs. H. C. Nichols and Mrs. J. E. Porter. The judges for the stock and poultry were Messrs. E. B. Wright, G. Herbert Smith and D. Boughner. The judges of the farm products were Messrs. A. M. Benton and B. T. Kissam.

The Whiteville school had the best out-of-town representation from the standpoint of the number in attend-

Villa Governor Protests the Passage of Carranza Troops Over United States Soil.

NOTE IS THREATENING

Says Unless Permit is Immediately Revoked, Lives Nor Property Will be Safe.

Carranza Garrison at Agua Prieta Expecting Attack.

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 29. — At least 50 and possibly 100 American citizens residing in the State of Sonora are believed here to have been placed in grave danger today by the posting at Cananea of printed copies of a protest which Carlos Randall, acting Villa governor, sent to the State Department at Washington. The protest declared that unless permission given General Carranza to those troops pass over American territory to Agua Prieta was not immediately revoked "there would be no safety for American citizens in Sonora, much less for their property."

At Cananea alone American mining interests have property valued at millions of dollars. The document posted there was signed by J. M. Acosta, a Yaqui chief, in the form of a notice to the Cananea prefect that the governor had sent a protest to Washington. A copy placed in the hands of American authorities here tonight, read in part:

"Urge him (President Wilson) to revoke immediately permission granted Carranza to send troops over American territory into Agua Prieta, because otherwise we will have to lament any fatal consequences on account of the greater danger in which all Americans in Sonora will be placed, for it is impossible for me to repress the fury of the peoples and the army against the American government for apparent partiality shown in helping one contending Mexican faction, contrary to all rights. I trust the American government realizes the gravity of the situation and will revoke the many times repeated permission."

Attack Hourly Expected.

Reinforced by a consignment of artillery which arrived this morning, the Carranza garrison, of Agua Prieta, across the river from here awaited tonight an attack by a greatly superior force of General Villa soldiers. The opening of a battle which it is believed may decide the future importance of Villa as a factor in the Mexican situation, was expected hourly. General Calles commanding at Agua Prieta had about 3,700 effective troops, more than 23 inch field guns, and about 50 machine guns. A Villa force of from 6,000 to 12,000 men with twenty-eight field guns was advancing on the town. Meanwhile on this side of the border 5,000 American troops with 16 field guns was prepared to prevent the combatants from doing damage to American life and property. The Carranza troops awaited the arrival of 5,000 troops come by rail through United States territory to strengthen the Agua Prieta garrison. Twenty-five hundred men with their arms in a sealed car, are expected here from Eagle Pass tomorrow. A similar force will follow later.

CARRANZA TROOPS LEAVE.

Four Train Loads Leave for Agua Prieta—Others Will Follow.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 29.—Four trains carrying Carranza reinforcements left Eagle Pass today for Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz. Other trains will proceed tonight and tomorrow.

The movement of Carranza troops over American territory is in line with the recent permission granted by the Washington government whereby Carranza was permitted to reinforce his garrison at Agua Prieta in the face of a threatened Villa attack.

REPRESENTATIONS MADE.

Carranza Asked to Order Invaders Pursued and Arrested.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Representations have been made to General Carranza by the United States asking for positive orders to military authorities in the vicinity of Matamoros to pursue and arrest Mexicans raiding into American territory. It is understood that such orders already have been issued.

The State Department received today the protest of Acting Governor Randall of the Villa government in Sonora, against the transportation of Carranza troops through American territory en route to Agua Prieta. There will be no response to Randall, but the consul at Nogales probably will be instructed to inform Villa officials that the recognition of the de facto government will not relieve them of personal responsibility for injury to citizens of the States. Officials here are watching the situation at Agua Prieta closely.

Yale and Harvard Face Hardest Tests of Schedule

Yale Meets Colgate While Harvard is to Face Penn State—Other Leading Elevens More Fortunate. The Schedule.

New York, Oct. 29.—The football elevens of Yale and Harvard, both of which have suffered defeat this fall, face the hardest test in tomorrow's week-end games of the eastern gridiron schedule. The Elis will meet the unconquered and unscored on Colgate team, while the Crimson plays Penn State, victors over Pennsylvania and other combinations or lesser calibre.

The other football leaders of the section are more fortunate and are not likely to be hard pressed. Princeton will tackle Williams; Cornell will have Virginia Polytechnic as its opponent at Ithaca; LaFayette will meet Pennsylvania; Dartmouth lines up against Amherst; Villa Nova faces the Army and the North Carolina Aggies will try the Navy.

Unless Yale shows a remarkable improvement in form, Colgate is likely to make the meeting between the two teams at New Haven an interesting one for the Blue. The Hamilton eleven has proved a powerful scoring machine this season, the Army being the only combination to hold it in check to any extent. From the records of the two teams this fall, Colgate is a logical favorite, but the Blue has plenty of power and material for a strong combination if the team can find itself.

Harvard succeeded in holding Penn State to a tie game last season but will face a harder problem tomorrow. Penn State has given plenty of evidence of its power this year by defeating Pennsylvania and scoring one-sided victories over its other opponents. Cornell exposed the weak points in the Cambridge combination last Saturday, however, and the defeat at the hands of the Ithaca players probably has been beneficial to the Crimson.

Princeton should have little difficulty in defeating Williams. Cornell, which won from Williams 46 to 0 two weeks ago, will meet a strong opponent in Virginia Polytechnic, but there is nothing in the record of the Southern combination to lead to the belief that it will be able to check the victorious march of the Ithacans.

The game between LaFayette and Pennsylvania should be a close contest.

The Army will play Villa Nova, while the Navy is meeting the North Carolina Aggies. Both service teams should come through to victory, although the scores are not likely to be large, especially in the game at Annapolis.

[illegible] will line up against Am[illegible] the result depends to a great [illegible] physical condition.

[illegible] vades the West to meet [illegible] this inter-sectional grid[illegible] is likely to prove one of [illegible] re contests of the day.

[illegible]ington and Lee will meet In[illegible]a, at Indianapolis. This game has [illegible]tracted wide interest, but as the teams have never met before there is no basis for comparison of their strength. Football followers, however, expect a very close score.

Other games scheduled include:
Vermont at Brown.
Rutgers vs. Springfield at Newark.
Gettysburg at Lehigh.
Rhode Island at Union.
Allegheny at Pittsburg.
Worcester Tech. at Wesleyan.
Lebanon at Ursinus.
Colby at Maine University.

Western games:
Minnesota at Illinois.
Wisconsin at Chicago.
Syracuse at Michigan.
Oregon Aggies vs. Michigan Aggies.
South Dakota at Notre Dame.
Washington and Lee vs. Indiana, at Indianapolis.
Cincinnati at Kentucky.

C., Oct. 29.—The North Carolina Suffrage League today selected Greensboro as the place of holding the next annual meeting and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Charles Malcom Platt, of Asheville; first vice president; Mrs. T. W. Lingle, of Davidson, second vice president, Mrs. Palmer German, of Raleigh; third vice president, Mrs. Susan Taylor, of Morganton; recording secretary, Mrs. Lallie Duffy Buford, of Newbern; corresponding secretary, Miss Susan Frances Hunter, of Asheville; treasurer, Miss Lila Rodman, of Wilmington.

The organization went on record as disapproving of the methods employed by the Congressional Union to win friends for suffrage and urged that every woman of this State who is interested in getting the vote give her hearty and undivided support to the association and the National organization.

Speakers today included Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, Mrs. Sallie Somerville, of the National board, and Commissioner D. Hiden Ramsey, of the local department of public safety.

CAROLINA MEETS THE GEORGIA TECH ELEVEN

Interest in Southern Football in Three Contests.

Georgia and Auburn and Vanderbilt and Tennessee Are Two Other Most Interesting Games—Several Other Contests.

Atlanta, Oct. 29.—Interest in Southern football tomorrow turns largely to three contests—Georgia and Auburn, Vanderbilt and Tennessee, and Georgia Tech and North Carolina. The showing of Georgia against Virginia last Saturday has raised the stock of Red and Black. Reports from Athens say the same line-up which faced Virginia in the second half of last week's game will be started against Auburn.

Auburn until last Saturday did not show impressive form, although continuing to keep its goal line uncrossed. The showing of the plainsmen against the Mississippi Aggie, however, was such as to cause the belief that the Georgia-Auburn game will be a hard fought battle.

The Tennessee-Vanderbilt contest at Nashville is causing some speculation. Tennessee since its 3 to 0 defeat by Clemson had shown a reversal of its early season form. Vanderbilt with her defense not yet put to a test, appears on comparative scores to have the advantage.

Georgia Tech and North Carolina should furnish a good contest, although North Carolina has shown little of the form indicated early in the season. Reports indicate, however, that the Carolina coaches have been endeavoring more to develop the team for the Virginia game Thanksgiving Day than to win the earlier contests.

The Sewanee-Alabama game at Birmingham should furnish good sport. Sewanee hit a snag at Lexington, Ky., last Saturday when Kentucky State held them to a tie, while Alabama had a rather close contest with Tulane.

Most of the other large Southern teams have scheduled comparatively minor games. Virginia meets V. M. I. at Charlottesville; Florida plays Southern College at Gainesville, Fla.

Other games scheduled are:
Louisiana State vs. Vississippi Aggies at Baton Rouge, La.
Arkansas vs. St. Louis at St. Louis.
Roanoke vs. Gallaudet at Lynchburg.
Howard vs. Mercer at Macon, Ga.

WILMINGTON HIGH SCHOOL WILL MEET NEWBERN TODAY.

Football at Hilton Park This Afternoon—Big Parade a Feature.

The Newbern High School football team, which will play the Wilmington High School team at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Hilton Park, will be given a royal welcome when they reach the city today shortly after noon. They will be met at the union station by automobiles and taken for a ride over the city. The Newbern team is said to be a strong one and a first class game of football is promised this afternoon as the strength of the Wilmington team is sufficient to make it decidedly interesting for any squad that it goes up against.

The High School students are going to turn out en masse both for the big parade this afternoon and then for the game. With banners flying from dozens of automobiles, they are going to traverse the city and arouse enthusiasm for the game at the park.

The Wilmington team has been thoroughly coached and is in good form. Backed by as loyal a crowd of "rooters" as ever spurred any team on to victory, they will strive to start the season right by taking the game from the doughty Newbern boys, who have the reputation of being among the best High School football players in the State.

The list of Wilmington players from which will be picked the line-up for the game tomorrow is as follows: Rhodes, C; Farmer, R. G.; Hanby, R.T.; Monroe, Griffith, R.E.; G. Johnson, L.G.; C. Johnson, L.T.; Silverman, MacMillan, L.E.; Hall, Q.B., captain; Grant, Willard, R.H.B.; Davis, L.H.B.; Bagley, F. B.; Substitutes, Thames, Hall, Woolard.

Hilton Park is the place; 4 o'clock is the time, and it is hoped that there will be a big crowd of football enthusiasts on hand to watch the game.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL PLAYERS ARE BLAMED FOR "LAY DOWN"

They Are Catching "Thunder" on the Hill These Days.

Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, Oct. 29.—It is a well known fact that the students and alumni of the university are not satisfied with the showing that the football team has made this year. Everyone thinks that with only the four varsity men who were in the game Carolina should have beaten V. M. I., and every one knows that Georgetown should not have been able to walk down the field in the manner that she did. There is a general feeling here, though denied by many and no one is sure of it, that the Carolina team "laid down." The result can be explained in no other way. The university squad has as good material this year as it had last and is under an excellent coaching system. No external fault can be found, so the players are catching thunder in the minds of the students. The line up for the Georgia Tech game cannot even be guessed at. Several men are in bad condition, and changes are being constantly made. Georgia Tech has won every game so far, with a large score, and it is evident that the individual players of the Carolina team will have to wake up Saturday, if they want to win.

HANSON TAKES ANOTHER ONE

Local Wrestling Favorite Downed by Visitor in First Round but Took Last Two With Ease.

In the most exciting and in all probability the best wrestling match seen here since the revival of the mat game, Fritz Hanson, the local welterweight favorite, added new laurels to his crown last night by winning from Carl Nelson, the Danish welterweight champion, the local man taking the last two falls in 5 to 35 minutes, respectively, after the Dane had put his shoulders to the mat at the end of 55 minutes of hard work in the first fall.

Hanson secured both his falls with the half nelson and crotch hold, while Nelson pinned his opponent down with a cleverly-executed head lock and body scissors. The match was clean throughout, and never lagged in interest, and the work of the two men was of the kind that kept the fans in a frenzy of enthusiasm throughout.

Nelson took his defeat gamely, and at the end of the match, with his confidence in himself apparently unshaken, challenged Hanson to another match the early part of next week, the men to weigh in at 148 pounds, the standard for the welterweight class. Nelson offered to put up a $100 side bet on the outcome of the match.

After some parleying between the two men they agreed to meet Monday night at 8:30 o'clock, to weigh in at 148 pounds, in a mixed match, Greek and Roman style and catch as catch can, with the toe and strangle holds barred, the winner to take the entire gate receipts, less expenses.

Nelson weighed in last night at 154 pounds, and Hanson at 153. Both men declare that they will be able to make 148 pounds by Monday night.

While shorter than the local man, Nelson is exceptionally well developed around the neck and shoulders, and his reach is longer than Hanson's. He impresses the local fans as being better in offensive work than in defensive tactics, and after the first fall, things were apparently all Hanson's way.

After the first fall, which went to Nelson at the end of 35 minutes, the men took a short rest, and inside of four minutes after they re-entered the ring, Hanson downed his man with a crotch hold and half nelson. The referee slapped Hanson on the shoulder and he arose, but Nelson protested the decision, claiming that his shoulders were not touching the mat. Hanson signified his willingness to waive the referee's decision, and the two men went back together, Hanson pinning his man down for fair this time in less than one minute and using the same hold.

The third fall went 35 minutes, and ended in victory for Hanson, who again used the half nelson and crotch hold.

The match was witnessed by probably the largest crowd to see a wrestling match in Wilmington, and was refereed by "Billie" Tomz.

SUPREME COURT HEARS REMARKABLE APPEALS

Big Cases Consolidated for Argument Involves $200,000.

J. B. and B. N. Duke, Estate of J. E. Stagg and Others, Plaintiffs; Spray Water Power and Land Co., Defendant.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 29.—Four remarkable appeals that were consolidated for argument before the Supreme Court today have B. N. and J. B. Duke, George W. Watts, the estate of J. E. Stagg, and J. B. Cobb, trustee, as plaintiffs and the Spray Water Power & Land Co., of Spray, Rockingham county, as the defendant, the cases involving about $200,000 dividends on stock in the American Warehouse Company ,alleged to have been guaranteed through a special contract with B. Frank Mebane and the Spray Water Power & Land Co.

The American Warehouse Co., was declared a bankrupt two years ago and no longer exists, but the contract with B. Frank Mebane and the Spray Water Power & Land Co., is alleged to be such that they are still liable for annual dividends guaranteed at 6 per cent. In the trial below Judge Justice overruled the demurrers of the defendants and the plaintiffs appealed.

It seems that originally the plaintiffs were owners of stock in the Nantuckett Mills and other corporations under the control and domination of B. Frank Mebane and they became dissatisfied with the management and threatened litigation, to avoid which B. Frank Mebane and his associates issued to the plaintiffs in lieu of their stock shares in the American Warehouse Co., which guaranteed 6 per cent., pledging earnings of future years if earnings in a specific year failed to provide this. There was the additional pledge endorsed on the shares of stock by Spray Water Power & Land Co. and B. Frank Mebane further guaranteeing these dividends or any part that the American Warehouse Co. failed to pay in any year, and specifying that this agreement is binding during the life of the Spray Water Power and Light Co., rather than the life of the American Warehouse Co., whose stock was being guaranteed.

The plaintiffs are seeking to hold the defendants strictly to the fulfillment of the guarantee and the defendants are pleading that, there being no evidence that the American Warehouse Co. earned any money that should have applied to dividends, none can be exacted; that if the contract of guaranty is to be construed as providing that the defendants must pay such dividends whether earned or not by the American Warehouse Co., such contract would be void because both "malum in se and malum prohibitum"; that the contract it is, furthermore, ultra vires and void and that the real purport of the guaranty was that the earnings declared, should there be any, should be properly and legally distributed in accordance with the stock certificates of the American Warehouse Co.

On the other hand, the plaintiffs insist that the stock in the American Warehouse Co. was taken solely on the guarantee of B. Frank Mebane and the Spray Water Power & Light Co., believing at the time that the American Warehouse Co. was really insolvent.

Trades Conditions Improved.

The Trades chapter summary for the forthcoming annual report of Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman notes depression the past year in employment due to the European war and low price of cotton, but points out that there is already marked improvement with conditions rapidly assuming normal status with indications that wages will soon reach their former level. Some notable average wages paid the past year are: Automobile mechanics, $1.50; boiler makers, $3.45; brick masons, $4.21; cabinet makers, $1.92; electricians, $3; plasterers, $1.13; machinists, $3.07; painters, $2.65; stone cutters, $3.50.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES YOUR LIVER! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and You Don't Lose a Day's Work

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of Calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

BIG FOUR TO SPEAK TO STATE FARMERS' UNION

Lever, McLaurin, Manning Brand to be Heard at Durham

John Sprunt Hill, Roland F. Beasley, Dr. G. M. Cooper Also Among the Speakers for Annual Convention in November.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 29.—Former Judge James S. Manning, of the North Carolina Supreme Court; Ex-Senator John L. McLaurin, of South Carolina; Congressman A. F. Lever, of the same State, and Charles J. Brand, of the National Bureau of Marketing at Washington, are the "Big Four" who will address the State Farmers' Union convention in Durham November 16-18.

Each of these personifies with special fitness some large issue before the Union. Among the prime considerations of this body is race segregation in land ownership between the races. Judge James S. Manning will discuss it as a lawyer. Senator McLaurin is warehouse commissioner of South Carolina and speaks on the system of that State. Congressman Lever is one of the authors of the Smith-Lever bill and will tell the Union of the advantages of such a Federal bill. Mr. Brand speaks on the issue of such capital importance to the farmers—marketing.

For the subjects peculiarly North Carolinian the Union has chosen specialists in this State. John Sprunt Hill, banker of Durham, and foe of the "time merchant" and the loan shark, is going to talk about rural credits to the study of which measure he has given the large amount of a busy man's time the past two years. Township organization is another of the Union's proposals now stirring up State-wide interest and Dr. G. M. Cooper, of Clinton, takes this assignment. Editor Roland F. Beasley, of Monroe, a tax specialist, is to show how present taxation methods promote absentee landlordism.

The Union first meets on the morning of Tuesday, November 16, with addresses of welcome by Mayor B. S. Skinner and James H. Southgate, president of the chamber of commerce. For the Union T. B. DeLoache responds. Executive sessions are held during each day but the addresses are public and social features will take place as often as such a busy congress will permit. Automobile trips given by citizens of Durham to Chapel Hill to allow a visit to the university, to Trinity college and to the great tobacco factories, cotton mills and hosiery manufactories, will be parts of this great convention in Durham.

CARNEGIE MEDALS AWARDED.

Sixty Acts of Heroism Recognized by Carnegie Commission.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 29.—Sixty acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in the awards that were announced at the fall meeting of the commission here today. In eight cases silver medals were awarded, and in 52 cases, bronze medals.

Nine of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of six of these, pensions aggregating $2,520 a year were granted; to the dependents of one of these and of three others who lost their lives, sums totaling $2,165, to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission, in various ways, were granted. In addition to these money grants, in six cases sums aggregating $11,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved; and in 40 cases awards aggregating $28,500 were made to be applied toward the purchase of homes and to other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiary's plans for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

DEBATE BETWEEN CAROLINA AN GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSIT

Lighthouse Steamer Jupiter Coming to North Carolina Waters.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—The remains of C. E. Jordan, a linotype operator on the Washington Post until his death here Wednesday, were shipped to Washington, N. C., today for internment.

Officials of the George Washington University and the University of North Carolina are trying to arrange for a debate between now and the last of December.

The lighthouse steamer Juniper has been ordered to proceed to the lower end of the inland waterways of North Carolina to repair and overhaul channel markers.

PIG CLUB CAMPAIGN.

Wilson County Fourteenth or Fifteenth to be Organized.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 29.—The "Pig Club" campaign is on in this county, J. Arnold Roth, of the State Agricultural Department, and County Farm Demonstrator O. O. Dukes started Friday on a trip through the county organizing clubs. The representatives went first to Rock Ridge farm life school and found an interest ready for them; Saturday they visited Parker's school and met a number of boys who are anxious to start the clubs. Mr. Roth, who has direct charge of the Pig Clubs in the State, said that 14 counties had been organized this year.

DR. M'NAIRY NOT BADLY HURT.

Attack by Bull Put Him in Bed for Several Days, However.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 29. — Physicians state that Dr. C. B. McNairy, superintendent of the Caswell Training School near here, is not internally injured, as the result of being attacked by a bull several days ago. Dr. McNairy, severely bruised up, has been confined to his bed. It was feared that he might be internally hurt. The beast that hurled the superintendent twenty feet into a wire fence and afterward butted him repeatedly until felled by an attendant with a club, was a dehorned Jersey, weighing almost a ton. The bull was angered by a girl's red sweater.

THEATRICAL

When a manager essays to be revolutionary and attempts to offer the public something that is new in the way of theatricals he is certain to be rewarded provided he, of course, elects to make his wares come within easy access of the humblest pocket. This does not necessarily mean that he must upset convention and cut prices down to the bone. The public is always willing to pay for the good things in the entertainment line but it wants that entertainment to be really the best and not a misrepresentation. In extolling the virtues of the new three-act comedy "Bringing Up Father," which is headed for the Academy today for a matinee and night performance, we do not think that we are exceeding the bounds of ordinary praise by stating that the piece has all the qualities of a capital and worthy production. It was constructed for laughing purposes exclusively and thus far has fulfilled its purpose. In addition it has a strong company, excellent scenic adornment, catchy songs, original features and a plot that can be understood and followed without the aid of a liberetto. The fun is not the result of horse play or slap sticks, it accrues from witty lines and mirth compelling situations, while the action is spirited and natural. As the title indicates the comedy is based on the drawings and cartoons of George McManus', whose effusions have found their way into the best dailies throughout the country. "Father" is an easy going but resourceful person. He is the "goat" for a time, but like the proverbial worm he turns and when he does there is the duece to pay. He accomplishes a much needed reform in his growing family and just how it succeeds, we will leave to the play itself. The prices for the matinee are 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. The night prices range from 50 cents to $1. No higher. Tickets are selling at Plummer's.

The Manhattan Comic Opera Company.

Robert Kane will present the Manhattan Comic Opera Company at the Academy of Music all next week, performances being given every night at 8:30 with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The Manhattan Opera Co. is well known to Wilmington music lovers, and the roster of the company this season includes singers well known on the operatic stage. Gertrude Hutchinson is the prima donna and for two seasons toured the country in the "Merry Widow." Bertha Holly, the mezzo-soprano, won fame when appearing in support of Elsie Janis and Fritzi Scheff for five seasons. Fred Holly, Gus Vaughn and Rudolf Koch, Leo Addie and Charles Laughlin are the comedians who have appeared with leading operatic organizations. A number of girls in the singing chorus adds to the attractiveness of the productions of this company and the scenic and costume equipment is declared to be of the best. The opening attraction at the Monday night performance will be the popular comic opera "Fra Diavolo."

Gertrude Hutchinson of "Merry Widow" Fame, Now With the Manhattan Opera Company.

A specially augmented orchestra under the direction of Alexander Spencer, associated formerly with the "Prince of Pilson" and other Savage successes will be a distinct feature of the performances next week at the Academy.

The repertoire of operas to be given are as follows: Monday evening "Fra Diavolo," Tuesday night, Wednesday matinee and night, "The Mikado," Thursday and Friday nights "The Mascot," Saturday matinee and Saturday night, "The Bohemian Girl."

The night prices will be 20 cents, 30 cents and 50 cents. Tickets are now on sale at Plummer's. On Monday night, one lady will be admitted absolutely free when accompanied by a person holding a 50 cent ticket. Free seats are limited to 200.

Charlie Chaplin—Bijou Today.

Today the Bijou presents another one of those great Charlie Chaplin comedies, this one, "Cruel, Cruel Love," being one of the greatest single reelers in which the popular Charlie ever played. It is another one of those great comedies which was produced under the direction of Mack Sennett, who formerly directed and produced all those great Keystones you used to laugh at, and that in itself is a guarantee that Charlie pulls some of his very greatest fun-provoking antics.

Beautiful and accomplished Jane Novak, playing opposite that vigorous young actor Ronald Bradbury, in "The Kiss of Dishonor," will furnish Bijou patrons a two-reel drama that is spectacular and singular in the extreme, filled with startling situations throughout. Scenically this picture is artistic and beautiful; dramatically it is strong to the limit, with plenty of action and logical continuity. The human interest is there, too, with a punch that always gets over.

Pretty Doris Pawn, with Sidney Ayres present a great single reel drama, "The Third Partner," that is full of interest, while the great bill winds up with the Animated Weekly, full, as usual, with big pictures and interesting things.

"The Juggernaut"—Royal Today.

If you want to see what moving picture realism can really mean—if you want to see a picture that, for every moment of an hour and a half will keep you glued to the edge of your seat in keen anticipation—see "The Juggernaut," that colossus of railroad dramas at the Royal today. You will find the romance of the workaday world and with it one of the most thrilling incidents that the camera has ever recorded. Nothing less than a pure, genuine wreck of an express train. You see it, the giant locomotive hurling itself with its train of cars through space into the rushing river below, you see the smashed up cars and struggling passengers, and seeing, you will have hard work to refrain from shrieking aloud. It is the sensation of a lifetime.

ANITA STEWART

Anita Stewart and Earle Williams play the leading roles in "The Juggernaut", and it is absolutely the pinnacle of all their great work as photoplay stars. Throughout the stirring story of today, it will clutch your heart and grip your nerves, while the scene of the train wreck fairly lifts you out of your seat. Yet this is but one of the many dramatic incidents of a five-part drama that fairly teems with exciting incidents.

If you want to see it, remember the crowds of last Saturday and come early, else you will miss the one big, genuine thrill of a lifetime.

At the Grand Today.

There is one woman who realizes the peril which lies in flirting with good looking men who happen to look like gentlemen. She is Mrs. Dorothy Runcan, wife of a traveling man. The Duncans were stopping at the Grand Hotel. When Mr. Duncan was called out of town, his wife, feeling lonely, flirted with Langdon, one of the guests. Then, as related to Kalem by the representative of one of the largest hotels in the country, Langdon showed his true colors. The man was a blackmailer and before long Mrs. Duncan felt the claws of this human wolf. The story is told in "The Wolf's Prey," the newest episode of Kalem's "Mysteries of the Grand Hotel." This powerful two-act subject is on at the Grand today, also a one-reel comedy by George Ade, "Fable of the Through Train." You can imagine how funny this subject will be, especially when you are familiar with George Ade's work.

"Into the Dark," is a Selig wild animal drama in one reel, and like all the Selig pictures you will find it very thrilling and interesting.

Merriment at the Victoria.

Folks looking for the best in life in the way of merriment should not miss today's week-end show at the popular Victoria theatre. You owe it to yourself, as a wholesome laugh tonic to visit the Victoria today at one of the three performances, and witness the jolly music show, "The Two Old Sports," which the Hutchinson Musical Comedy Company is staking there with such success and at tiny prices. "The Two Old Sports" was built for laugh purposes only and was indeed well constructed. It made hundreds howl yesterday, while being immensely delighted with the many musical gems that sparkle so brightly, and it will make you shake your sides with laughter and be pleased by musical numbers, if you will but accept the rare chance today.

The matinee this afternoon should prove especially popular to the ladies and children. A special price of 5 cents prevails for the children. The company will close its successful engagement tonight with two performances.

For next week the Victoria again has something big and something that is going to cause a stir among amusement lovers. It is the noted DeLoss Masqueraders, one of the best tabloid music shows of all, and this organization is featuring the well known Southern Comedy Four, presenting the latest in mirth and jingles. The engagement will open at matinee Monday afternoon.

LECTURES AT WAKE FOREST

Series for Fall and Winter Arranged For and Announced.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 28.—Dr. W. R. Cullom, chairman of the committee on lectures at Wake Forest college, announces a series of lectures to be given at Wake Forest during the 1915-16 session.

The exact dates of all the lectures have not been arranged, and so far only two have been scheduled for this fall. With the exception of the lecture by Dr. Henry C. Mabie, the lectures are given under the auspices of the Alkahest Lyceum, of Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Mabie has spent the past two years traveling and lecturing through Asia. Following is the order of the lectures in which they will be given:

October 30, W. Powell Hale, impersonator; November 17, Metropolitan Quartette; January 8, Ralph Parlette, lecturer; February, Hampton Court Singers, presenting song and drama; March —, Dr. Charles R. Brown, of the School of Religion in Yale University, lecturer.

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 29.—Kinston has almost twice as many telephones now as three years ago, as one evidence of the city's recent growth, according to a statement by a local manager today. The use of the telephone is extending rapidly in the rural sections.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily and mailed to subscribers outside the county at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months; or served by carrier in the city and suburbs at 60c. per month, or, when paid in advance, $7.00 per year, $3.50 for six months, $1.75 for three months.

THE SUNDAY STAR by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51. Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable and all communications should be addressed to

We stand with baited breath for those "Florida fish stories."

Trying to think of a good name for your farm?

Some men prefer to hit a friend for a five-spot rather than hit a few licks of work for it.

If money talks, we know people who would like for it do all their talking for them.

The warring nations are all doing their best to hold their own as well as to get hold of what each other owns.

Be sure you are right and then go ahead and ask your wife before you put your foot in it.

Colonel Roosevelt quietly celebrated his 57th birthday a few days ago. Why not? It was not for him to make the noise on account of his birth.

We do not care to go to war and do not care for war to come to us unless we can show it the way to go home and stay.

A lawyer always takes chances on the fact that other lawyers do not know all the law any more than he does himself.

Besides having the cotton boll weevil in about 30 counties, Georgia is to have an extra session of the legislature.

This country has loaned nearly a billion dollars for war purposes in Europe. We had the money to loan and Europe wanted it till we need it to finance American trade with South America and the Orient.

The Jacksonville Times-Union announces that "Russia wants to borrow two and three-quarter billion dollars in foreign markets." Probably the home markets are out of small change at this time.

The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, in a sermon in the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, declared that the war in Europe is a blessing. No doubt the munitions manufacturers will agree with him.

Says the Columbia State: "A Republican is to be ambassador to Mexico and it must be admitted that is just the right place for a Republican." Well, it's proof positive that President Wilson recognizes Republican courage.

Joan of Arc was burned to death in France in 1431, but it must be recollected that she had made a whole lot of people mad. At any rate those who did it have been dead for at least 450 years.

Greece would rather have the money than to accept a title to Cyprus at the present writing. Fact is, if Greece had accepted Cyprus, she might not be able to prove her title to it after the shuffle of nations is concluded.

The last living specimen of the dodo was seen in 1681, according to what some Dutch sailors reported. It is not worth while to try to dispute with sailors who have seen things that Dr. Cook never saw.

We don't know what the Republicans are going to do for a presidential nominee next year, but we predict that we will have to beat a ticket headed by Burton and Borah. However, two B's won't make a be.

The Jacksonville Times-Union is having an argument with the American Economist, but the Economist is relying upon some exploded economic theories that are more valuable to special interests than they are to one seeking economic facts.

THE WAVE OF PROSPERITY.

A recent issue with Republicans was calamity. They howled as if it were a sockdolager for Democrats, but they were depending on a rope of sand and the waves of prosperity washed it asunder. Their chief issue was drowned out, for no one except in the most primitive and unenlightened portions of the country is denying that prosperity is enthroned throughout America.

New York is the one great clearing house for everything American. It is there that the bank clearings indicate America's strong financial position. It is there that the business barometer shows the gratifying condition of American business. It is there that the marvelous commercial progress of the Nation is indicated. It is in New York where we find the seismograph of prosperity. When New York reports on prosperity the small fry have to stew in their stupidity. "Stronger than ever before," is the authoritative report concerning the situation. It is not a Democratic report but a Wall Street report. Here is proof of it from Commerce and Finance:

"All the developments of the week tended to broaden and intensify the improvements already apparent in every branch of industry and trade. The general gain, of course, was registered most conspicuously in bank returns where the ultimate balance of all business is cast. Record clearings, indicative of great domestic activity and a growing surplus, despite huge foreign and domestic loans, show that the banking position is stronger than ever before. Gold to the amount of $31,225,000 was received from England, and it was announced that November dividend and interest disbursements will total $157,610,946. The syndicate which underwrote the Anglo-French loan has withdrawn half the amount from the public offering, whether because it is desired to take advantage of the syndicate price for investment, or because the public is not buying the bonds with alacrity, cannot be said. An Italian issue of short-term notes amounting to $25,000,000 and a Russian acceptance credit of between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 are about to be offered in this market. When this is accomplished, our loans to foreign governments since the war began will total $927,500,000—less than $70,000,000 of which went to neutrals. If the market whose currency is the fixed standard by which other currencies are measured, and to which all other nations come in quest of credit is the financial center of the world, then New York already has attained that honor, in so far as banking is concerned. But that is not all. New York is not only the banker of the civilized world; it is the manufacturer and merchant to nations as well. Our huge exports, which are being paid for in gold and borrowed credits, have stimulated an awakening of industry and trade which has spread to such an extent that the railroads are now beginning to feel the thrill that inimated only a few 'war-order industries' a few months ago. Between the railroads and the crops the few factories which had remained without the reach of the main current are now swinging out into the midstream of activity. Payrolls are bigger and wages are higher."

We have to accept that high authority from a financial journal that is on the scene and naturally has to tend to conservatism and always avoid even the appearance of exaggeration in order to get recognition for its reliability and responsibility. Dun's weekly commercial report states that the volume of retail business in the principal American centers is swelling to large proportions, and here it is well to quote exactly what Dun's says about the banking situation throughout the United States:

"Bank clearings outside of New York largely surpass those of recent years, gross railroad earnings are steadily rising, the upward trend of commodity prices is unchecked and the increase in commercial borrowing gives additional proof of trade expansion."

Bradstreet's also verifies the situation and emphasizes it strongly when it says of the general situation that "progress in trade and industry continues of conspicuous proportions, with even greater gains apparently in store." Who ever before heard of such conditions as Bradstreet's reports? This, for instance:

"In the large lines cumulative expansion is the chief characteristic; retail merchants show a stronger propensity to buy ahead; the steel trade goes on making ground; prices on some finished products have been advanced, partly to keep buying within certain bounds; the long predicted scarcity of railways cars is an actual fact; a paucity of labor exists; pay rolls are enlarging; weekly bank clearings are of unparalleled proportions; demand for money, the supply of which is plethoric at easy rates, is increasing; exports of wheat and flour reduced to wheat for the current week establish a new high record; export trade continues unprecedented; meritorious new enterprises are being launched more readily; real estate, long dormant, is reviving; farmers in the South, having had their forebodings dispelled by good prices for cotton and its products, are paying off old debts, and except in the lumber producing sections of the Northwest (outside of the mining regions), growth is evidenced."

The Star only yesterday carried an Associated Press dispatch relating to the tremendous activity of the steel industry. The gross earnings of the railroads have largely increased and they are ordering equipment and material in immense quantities. In fact, every branch of industry and activity in the United States is getting up to high water mark or is breaking the record. All this wave of prosperity is bound to spread to the South, and we are already feeling it very sensibly.

Some Wilmington houses report business doubling over any October business they ever had. We are told that Wilmington jobbers are compelled to press manufacturers and distributors for their outstanding orders, delay in filling which is caused by the immense rush of business in the North and West.

If a Roosevelt or a Taft were President now, every Republican newspaper and politician would be giving him credit for all these evidences of prosperity, but since there is a Democratic administration in Washington, of course neither the President nor the government has anything to do with it!

PUERILE IF NOT SLANDEROUS TALK

Glory be! They've got one on President Wilson now! And such joy as it is giving them! They have visions of how the Solid South is going to hand the Southern-born President of these United States a lemon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1916. It's a sweet morsel they're chewing now. Meanwhile they are laughing in their sleeves fit to "bust" the buttons off because they opine that for once the man who has been repeatedly dubbed one of the four greatest Presidents the United States ever had has "put his foot in it."

As usual, the weak point about the story is that it is not at all true. The way the Republicans and Progressives are telling it—up in the second North Carolina Congressional district—is that several Sundays ago President Wilson and Mrs. Galt took lunch at the home of a negro in Virginia. Republican papers have published the story and the Republican politicians in the Second district are said to be making a great deal of it. They recall the criticism of Roosevelt for dining Booker Washington at the White House. They are detailing the story to suit their own purpose and mixing enough of fact in it to make credulous persons believe it. For instance, they make a show of knowing what they are talking about by emphasizing that the President and his fiancee made the trip in an automobile and that part of the trip was made through the rain and that the negro home of the Virginia negro where they "took lunch" was just 71 miles from Washington.

The Kinston correspondent of some of the State papers has sent out the story of how the political opponents of the chief executive in that section are making capital of the story as printed in political organs and says the Democrats of the section have been afforded no little amusement by the way the Republicans and Progressives are working it. The Kinston correspondent states that the story about the President's trip into Virginia seems to have escaped the news associations. In this he is mistaken. The story in question was carried by the Associated Press on the night of October 16th and printed on the front page of The Star on Sunday morning, October 17th, under a display head.

Now what were the facts in the case? Simply these, as told by the Associated Press, than which there is no more reliable news gathering agency in the world. President Wilson took a holiday on Saturday, October 16th, and with Mrs. Galt and his cousins, Misses Lucy and Mary Smith, of New Orleans, motored to Harper's Ferry for lunch. That night the party attended a theatre in Washington. It was raining that morning and the roads were muddy, but noon found them at Harper's Ferry, 72 miles away. "At an inn overlooking the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers," the President registered, writing "Woodrow Wilson and party."

The wayside inn (a public eating place beside the public highway to furnish lunches and meals to travelers for profit, let us state for the benefit of those Republicans who do not know an inn from a home) is kept by a negro family and the President and Mrs. Galt, both of whom were born in Virginia, ordered an old-fashioned Southern dinner, which was served in "the public dining room where there were 20 other guests." Mr. Wilson paid for the dinner of the party himself and tipped the waitress, so the ever present correspondent of the Associated Press took pains to state. That is all of it—the whole story.

Now, isn't that something out of which to make political capital? It shows to what desperate straits the opponents of the President are put to get something "agin" him. Didn't the President have a right to motor into Virginia and to Harper's Ferry, even 72 miles from Washington? Didn't he have a right to take along his fiancee and his two cousins? Being 72 miles from Washington on a public highway in the country at noon and having driven 72 miles over a muddy road, weren't they supposed to be hungry? If they were, didn't they have a right to eat, even if there was no public eating place except an inn kept by a negro? Should they have doubled the 72 miles back to Washington hungry? A score of other guests ate in the same dining room at the same time. The President paid for the four dinners and tipped the waitress, just as he would have done in any metropolitan hostelry. There is not an intimation that he accepted a scintilla of "homely hospitality." What wrong did the President do?

In all seriousness, the efforts they are making to make political capital out of it is puerile and would be very amusing if it were not so disgusting to intelligent people and if it did not border so closely on slander of the names of the Southern-born President and three Southern ladies!

THE JAPAN ADVERTISER.

It has given The Star a great deal of pleasure to be the recipient of a copy of the "Panama-Pacific" edition of the Japan Advertiser, a big newspaper published every day in the year at Tokyo. This special edition was published in September and distributed widely in Japan and the United States. Thousands if not millions of copies of the paper have been put into circulation at the exposition at San Francisco, and we are sure that Americans who have read it have been edified and delighted with its various features.

The Advertiser is printed in both Japanese and English and, if the English is a version of the Japanese print, we can say that it is a great publication worthy of the highest appreciation in both Japan and America. It is both a magnificent publication and an excellent newspaper. Its ideal typography indicates genuine skill, and we recognize in its illustrations a fine genius for engraving as an art peculiar to the Japanese as well as to Americans.

The publication consists of forty-odd pages of matter, and it discusses a great variety of matters and subjects of peculiar interest to intelligent Americans. The front page is a multicolor design in which appear the portraitures of the Japanese prime minister, H. E. Count Shigenobu Okuma, and President Woodrow Wilson. Beneath the pictures of these distinguished men of the two countries there are "messages" from each to the other's people, one "A Message from Japan to America," and the other "A Message from America to Japan." They both breathe an impressive spirit of cordiality and friendship as between Japan and America, and each message senses the friendly relationship between the United States and the great Japanese Empire.

The cordial and friendly sentiments expressed strongly convey feelings that should exist between the Yankees of the West and the Yankees of the Orient. Americans do not let trivial incidents and misunderstandings mar their admiration of and their friendship for the Japanese and their wonder country and its wonderful people. The Panama-Pacific edition of the Japan Advertiser was designed for commemoration of the building of the Panama Canal, and it is especially announced that it is issued "with a view of aiding in promulgation of a stronger feeling of friendliness between America and Japan."

We are sure that feeling is being more sensibly realized and more generally reciprocated in America, and there is no reason why the two countries should not consistently and persistently cultivate mutual relations of the sincerest friendship and the best of international relations. When we understand the lofty national spirit of the Japanese and they understand more fully some of our peculiar institutions, there should be nothing that the great and earnest statesmen of the two countries could not settle over fragrant cigars and—grape juice with ice in it.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOL WORK

In connection with the moonlight school work that is just now being undertaken so extensively in North Carolina, The Star is requested to publish the following from some of the recent literature issued in the interest of the movement:

"What are the figures to be changed:

"291,497 illiterates in North Carolina today?

"18.5 per cent. of North Carolina's population illiterate!

"282,226 illiterates over twenty-one years of age;

"131,992 native born white illiterates!

"12.3 per cent. of North Carolina's white population illiterates.

"In the United States the per cent. is 3.7 illiterate.

"In the South the per cent. is 7.7 illiterate.

"In North Carolina the per cent. is 12.3 illiterate.

"124,552 white illiterates live in the country.

"13.5 per cent. of North Carolina's white country population illiterate!

"7,440 white illiterates live in towns.

"5 per cent. of North Carolina's white town population illiterate!

"In the various counties of the State illiteracy ranges from 3.2 in New Hanover to 19.4 in Cherokee, from 4.6 in Mecklenburg to 22.4 in Mitchell, from 9.8 in Wake to 21.7 in Wilkes, from 14.3 in Sampson to 20.5 in Stokes, and so on. These are the figures to be changed.

"How are these figures to be changed?

"By teaching the illiterates in moonlight schools, which are simply night schools for adults."

MARKET STREET SIDEWALKS A DISGRACE?

To the Editor of the Star:

I desire to thank the brother for his article in yesterday's issue of the Star, with reference to the sidewalks at 10th and Market streets.

I make special reference to the Southeastern corner, and concur with the writer of the former article, that the condition at this point is nothing short of a DISGRACE. Being a resident on Market street near 10th, I frequently notice that the little school "tots", as well as the ladies, abandon the sidewalk at this particular place and get in the street, but as stated in the previous article, this is dangerous. The block on the South side of Market between 10th and 11th has been paved, with the exception of the Eastern corner. If this was improved, as it should be, it would certainly be a relief to the public, and especially to the school children who have to pass, daily, over the same.

The word FORCE may sound rather harsh to some, but if they have not public spirit enough to co-operate and comply with the City Ordinance, then I say to the City Council, or whoever the proper authorities are, FORCE the party owning the S. E. corner of 10th and Market to put down a sidewalk in keeping with the balance of the block.

SUBSCRIBER.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The News and Observer declares that it can't help thinking of the inconsistency of the Wilmington Star which persists in spelling it Newbern and yet says that it is New Hanover. Yea, verily, consistency thou art a jewel.—Newbern Sun.

Brazil is buying automobile tires from Europe, not because European tires are better than American, but because trade connection facilitate their purchase more advantageously there. This is one of the many examples of why the campaign begun by the United States Department of Commerce for commercial growth for this country is needed.—Savannah News.

Score another candidate for Congress in the Sixth district—the "bloody" sixth no longer but the balmy sixth, where every prospect pleases and only man aspires to Congress. The expected has happened again: Mr. Q. K. Nimocks, of Fayetteville, after a thorough political survey of the district, comes out now in a formal announcement that he is in the race for keeps. This may close the list, unless, indeed, another Harnett county man who has been "prominently" mentioned decides to make it an even half dozen. Mr. Nimocks has the reputation of being a clean, able, upstanding man, and his entering the race will make many sovereigns sit up and take notice. He comes out strong for the national Democratic administration, "being in full sympathy with its present legislative programme for rural credits, an American merchant marine, a larger and stronger army and navy for national defense."—Lumberton Robesonian.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, tak. Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

WILL REPAIR MANY CUTTERS

Seminole Will Relieve Yamacraw at Savannah—Depot at Arundel Cove to be Kept Busy.

The coast guard cutter Seminole, now in Porto Rican waters, will shortly return to this country and will relieve the Yamacraw at Savannah, according to a Washington dispatch to the Baltimore Sun. While Wilmington is not mentioned in the dispatch, it is presumed that provision will eventually be made for North Carolina waters, as it is stated that a period of increased activity at the coast guard cutter depot at Arundel Cove, Baltimore, is promised by an announcement from the Treasury Department. A number of cutters are to undergo overhauling at this station, including the Pamlico, now stationed at Newbern. This work is preparatory to the winter's coast guard service.

"The Itaska, now at Baltimore, will be completely overhauled before sailing, about November 1, for San Juan, Porto Rico." says The Sun. "She will be relieved at San Juan by the Algonquin as soon as the latter has been made ready for sea duty. The Seminole, now in Porto Rican waters, will shortly return to this country and will relieve the Yamacraw at the Savannah station, while the latter is being overhauled at Baltimore. The machinery of the Yamacraw will receive special attention.

"The Pamlico already has proceeded from North Carolina waters to Baltimore for repairs. A little later the Wissahickon, now stationed at Philadelphia, will be ordered to Arundel Cove for overhauling and repairs.

"These vessels will keep the plant at Baltimore busy for several months. As soon as they are out of the way others will be ordered to the Maryland depot for necessary repairs."

It is not improbable that the Itaska may later be assigned to the Wilmington station.

SPOOKS AND GHOSTS TO ENTERTAIN AT Y. M. C. A.

Members of Boys' Division Will Celebrate Hallowe'en Tonight.

The Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A. will be closed today on account of the elaborate preparations for the big Hallowe'en social to be given this evening from 8 to 10:30 o'clock. This will be an occasion long to be remembered for the guests provided they are able to escape the spooks. Ghosts, hobgoblins, witches, weird sights and hideous voices will be seen and heard on every side. The entire building from the second floor to the basement will be used and something will be going on in several places at the same time.

The gymnasium will be the scene of a combat between the Boy Scouts and a mighty tribe of Indians. Following the battle, the Indians will celebrate with a bon fire and war dance. The dead will be carried from the field of battle by the surviving Indians and turned over to the spirits of the nether world.

The most exciting and hair raising adventure of the evening will be the misty and mysterious voyage over the black river Styx in a boat, manned by Pluto and his crew of departed spirits. The voyage will be for the daring only.

Scarcely less exciting will be the walk through the dark sub-terranean caverns, inhabited by departed spirits. Real, live imps and their chief will greet the guests as they pass. All will be expected to stop at the wishing spring and make a wish. Witches and wizards will tell fortunes and conduct games to try the fortunes of all.

There will be a continuous round of fun from the time the guests enter by way of "Shoot the chute" and receive the oath from the chief spook, until farewells are said.

Refreshments will be served by a committee of Boy Scouts. The Crusaders and High School boys will entertain the Newbern football team at the social. All the members of the Boys' Division of the Y. M. C. A., their parents and friends are cordially invited.

THE MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS

Will Begin in Wilmington on November 2 at 8 P. M.

Moonlight schools in Wilmington and New Hanover will be opened on Tuesday, November 2, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of teaching adults to read and write. The studies to be pursued in these schools are reading, writing, arithmetic and spelling.

In order that those for whom these schools are intended may hear of these schools, all the ministers of the city and county are requested to announce on Sunday the opening of these schools and urge that they avail themselves of this opportunity. The co-operation of the ministers will be greatly appreciated.

Any person or friend who knows of anyone who ought to attend these schools will kindly tell them of this movement and invite them to go to the school that is most convenient. The moonlight school movement is entirely voluntary and it is hoped that every citizen in Wilmington and New Hanover county who can assist in any way will heartily support this commendable campaign.

LAND CASE IS NON-SUITED

Plaintiff Will Likely Bring New Suit. Superior Court Takes Recess Until Monday.

After the plaintiff had completed giving its evidence in the case of Mr. John E. Wood against Cicero Dixon, involving the title to a tract of 678 acres near Castle Haynes, a voluntary non-suit was taken in Superior Court yesterday afternoon after Judge Daniels, upon motion of the attorneys for the defendant, had ruled a non-suit as to 253 acres of the tract. It is probable that a new suit will be brought by the plaintiff.

The attorneys for the plaintiff are Hon. John D. Bellamy and A. G. Ricaud, Esq., and Iredell Meares and K. C. Sidbury, Esqs., appeared for the defendant. The trial of the case was begun Thursday afternoon and the hearing of evidence for the plaintiff took up practically all of yesterday.

After going over the calendar, disposing of two divorce cases and signing a number of orders, Judge Daniels announced that court would take a recess until Monday. He will go to his home in Goldsboro today to spend the week-end.

Joseph G. Dukes, a watchman for the Atlantic Coast Line, was granted a divorce from his wife, Mary S. Dukes. He was permitted by the court to keep the two children of whom Mrs. Dukes is the mother.

A divorce was also granted to Norman F. Smith, colored, from his wife, Mary M. Smith.

The following cases were continued by consent: American National Bank against Savannah Trust Co., et al.; R. E. Williams against the Murchison National Bank.

FASTEST GAMES YET PLAYED LAST NIGHT

Reds and Dodgers Continue to Win, After Hard Fight.

	W	L	Pct.
Reds	4	0	1.000
Dodgers	3	1	.750
Seminoles	1	3	.250
Braves	0	4	.000

Last Night's Results.

Dodgers 28, Seminoles 23.
Reds 31, Braves 22.

The above percentage column and scores for last night's games of basketball, in the Class A League at the Boys' Brigade, tell two different stories. The playing last night of all teams was the fastest, prettiest, and closest of the season—it was of the gilt-edge variety. The Dodgers defeated the Seminoles for the second time, but it was no walk-over this time, as may be seen by the difference of only five points in the score. And the Reds took another, but won it in the first half entirely, being outplayed in turn in the second half.

In the first game it was nip and tuck for the most part of the first half. Then Rourk, the Dodgers' substitute, and one of the fastest young players in the league, made three goals in rapid succession, one or two of them difficult and beautiful. And it was by just this margin that the first half ended in the Dodgers' favor, 18 to 7. In the second half the Seminoles tightened up and went after the game in good fashion. They were materially aided by having Simon Branch in the game throughout. He was held to one goal in the first half by his big opponent H. Gerdes, but in the second half he slipped around for three goals, which with two shots by McCartney and one each by Register and Sholar, totaled 16 for them against 15 for the Dodgers. But this was not enough to overcome the latter's lead, and the game went to them by five points. Norman Davis for the Dodgers, did good work in holding H. Register to one field goal and making two himself, while Captain Sholar of the Seminoles did the same class of work when he pinned Bruce Cameron to three goals and threw three himself. Rourk secured a total of six goals for his team.

In the second game the Reds started off with a rush and walked away with the first half to the tune of 23 to 2, the accurate goal-throwing of big "Clunk" Davis, who dropped the ball in the basket six times; and three shots made by Arthur Smith, telling the tale for the Reds; while the Braves' forwards could not find the basket. The Braves did the fastest work they have yet put, and their pass work could hardly be improved upon. They had the ball constantly and secured chance after chance at the basket, but could not get "control" until it was too late in the game. They found their arms in the second half and romped on the Reds for this portion of the game to the tune of 20 to 8 points, but could not pile up enough to pass their opponents before the timekeeper's whistle blew. In the last few minutes of the game Archie Ellis and little MacGriffith "went mad" in basketball language, dropping the ball in the basket as fast as it put back into play. Each of these men secured three field goals in about as many minutes. All of Snakenburg's men got in the scoring this half, he throwing two goals, while C. Gerdes and Kure each got one. On the other hand the magnificent guarding of Snakenburg and Kure held the Reds to a total of only four goals for the half.

Next Friday the Reds will meet the Dodgers, and as these two teams were the winners last night, an interesting struggle may be looked for. The Braves and the Seminoles will fight for third position.

NEW CHURCH AT WILLARD

Rev. A. J. Howell Will Act as Moderator at Organization Tomorrow.

Rev. Andrew J. Howell will leave tonight for Willard, to serve as moderator of a commission appointed by the Wilmington Presbytery to organize a Presbyterian church in that town. The exercises will take place on Sunday morning. The new church, which has bright prospects for great usefulness, will be under the pastorate of Rev. W. P. M. Currie, of Wallace.

IT'S A LONG WAY TO LIBERTY

George Galloway Confronted with Many Charges in Recorder's Court Long Term for Graham.

It's a long way to Tipperary and likewise a devious path to liberty for George Galloway, of dark complexion, who was in the Recorder's court yesterday to face numerous charges of petty thefts, after he had successfully eluded the police for several months. There were no fewer than five charges of wrong-doing against Galloway and in two of them he drew a total of ten months on the county roads and in another must face trial in Superior Court, while the last one was continued because of the absence of witnesses for the State.

Galloway escaped conviction on the first count of larceny against him in which it was alleged that he stole the sum of $1 from another negro. It appeared that he had been given money to buy some stuff from a store and never came back. However, the defendant was able to prove that he had been working for the man from whom he took the money and a verdict of not guilty was entered.

The next count was for highway robbery but this was changed to larceny as it appeared that while Galloway had gotten $2 from Dan McKeller, colored, he had not compelled him by violent methods to part with the money. Six months on the county roads were credited to the negro in this case.

The third count was for the larceny of a set of harness from Mr. George H. Hutaff. The evidence against him was convincing and resulted in another four months being added to his sentence.

On the fourth count, the negro was alleged to have entered the house of Ed Sanders, colored, and to have carried away a suit of clothes and a pair of trousers. This was a bit more serious than the others and the Recorder sent the case over to Superior Court.

The last count was for stealing clothing from Willie Bradford , also colored, but this was continued because of the absence of witnesses.

John Graham, colored, was charged with stealing a set of tools from a carpenter and a bicycle from the market of Davis & Hintze. The negro stoutly denied having ever served on the roads although Road Superintendent Burnett had identified him as the same man who had previously served two sentences. An investigation of the court records was responsible for digging up various and sundry aliases and may have had something to do with the long sentences pronounced by the Recorder, the negro getting three months for the larceny of the tools and a year for stealing the bicycle.

Joe Smith, alias "Sinkey Joe," also colored, wasn't charged with anything more serious than indulging in the ancient game of passing off a Confederate bill for real money, but this was enough to send him to the roads for 30 days.

Addie Simons, colored, was found not guilty of an old charge of assault.

PREP-HIGH SCHOOL CLUB.

Annual Election of Officers Held Last Night—Interesting Meeting.

The Prep-High School club of the Wilmington High School and the Cape Fear Academy held its annual election of officers last night at its regular weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. The following officers were elected: President, Howard Hanby; vice president, Alfred Hall; secretary, Frank Montgomery; treasurer, Andrew Harris. The committee on by-laws and constitution reported that they had framed a constitution which would be ready for ratification at the next meeting.

Two classes elected officers. The Senior group elected Charles Johnson as president; Alfred Hall, as vice president; Louis MacMillan as secretary, and Clifford Miller as treasurer. The sophomore-junior group elected Andrew Harriss as president; Jennings Woolard as vice president; James Farmer as secretary, and James Monroe as treasurer.

MEETING OF POSTMASTERS

Mr. H. McL. Green Returns from Washington, Where He Attended National Convention.

Postmaster H. McL. Green has returned from the annual convention of the National Postmasters' Association which was held in Washington last week. He reports that the convention was a perfect success in every way. During the session many questions regarding the postal service were discussed. Among them were matters concerning the parcel post service, city delivery service, postal savings, duties of postmasters, foreign mail service, rural mail service, how to handle the public, etc.

The postmasters were tendered a reception on Wednesday afternoon of last week in the East room of the White House by President Wilson. They were also given a reception by Postmaster General Burleson, who had it arranged so that every postmaster could become acquainted with the workings of each department by visiting the same.

Mr. Green stated yesterday that he believed that every one of the 500 postmasters, who attended the convention, returned to their homes much benefitted and with a determination to give better service than ever before.

Mr. Green, who is president of the North Carolina State Association of Postmasters, was much pleased to find that a large number of the members of this organization were in attendance. Mr. Green ever since he assumed charge of the Wilmington office has made it a point to attend the meetings of the postmasters, both State and National, believing that in this way he can receive valuable suggestions for the improvement of the service locally.

HAVE SPIRITED DEBATE.

Speakers' Club of Y. M. C. A. Had Instructive Meeting Last Night.

The fourth meeting of the Speakers' Club at the Y. M. C. A. was well attended last night, and the debate was interesting, spirited and well conducted.

The question was: "Was Germany justified in the execution of the British trained nurse who successfully aided in the escape of British and Belgian soldiers?" Mr. D. H. Howes, Jr., with his team, defended the affirmative, and Dr. E. S. Bulluck and his constituents the negative. At no time during the debate was it clear which side had the advantage until the judges had rendered the decision, which was in favor of the affirmative.

The next debate will be held Friday night, at which time the following question will be discussed: "Resolved that the United States and South American countries should forcibly intervene in Mexico in behalf of peace instead of recognizing the Carranza government."

The club endeavors to have an interesting programme for each meeting and visitors are invited.

SHOPLIFTING IS CHARGED.

Four Negroes Are Implicated in Larceny of Silks from J. H. Rehder Co.

For some time silks in small quantities have been missed from the department store of J. H. Rehder & Co., in this city, and as a result of investigations made by County Officer H. Mack Godwin, Ada Simmons, Lilly Johnson, Bertha Grady and Joe Wilson, all colored, were lodged in the county jail yesterday morning on charges of being implicated in the stealing of the merchandise. Four pieces of silk were found at the home of Bertha Grady and Lilly Johnson. They claimed to have bought the stuff from Kid Jones, colored, who is awaiting trial in Superior Court on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of a store in Federal Point township.

The four defendants will have hearings before Justice Harriss today.

Says He Was Robbed.

Mr. A. Moore, an employe of the transportation department of the Tidewater Power Company, has made report to the police that he was held up by three negroes at Ninth and Orange streets on Thursday night and robbed of a purse which contained $1 in money. Mr. Moore said that he was accompanied by Fred Kelly, a young boy, when the robbery occurred. There is no clue to the identity of the negroes.

Back from the Fair.

Councilman James M. Hall is at home from Fayetteville, N. C., where he has been attending the Cape Fear fair during the past week. Chief of Police Williams and Officers T. M. Hall and Leon George, who accompanied Councilman Hall as special officers for the fair, making the trip by automobile, are expected to return to the city today.

—Mr. James S. Brittain, of the Southern Express Co., says that he has nothing whatever against the Seaboard Air Line" and that the suit in Superior Court which has appeared in his name should be James H. Brittain as Plaintiff. The correction is gladly made.

ITCHING ECZEMA COVERED ENTIRE BODY, RESINOL CURED

Could Not Sleep. 8 Remedies had Failed. Resinol Stopped Itching Immediately.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 11, 1914.—"My entire body, even my eyelids, was completely covered with blisters as large as a pea. When one would burst water would come from it, and then it would turn into a very painful sore. The burning and itching were something terrible, and I COULD NOT SLEEP nor rest. I think I had one of the worst cases of eczema a human being ever had.

"I used eight different kinds of remedies without success. I then tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it stopped the itching IMMEDIATELY. I gradually noticed a change for the better. Now I am entirely cured, and am without a pimple or blemish on any part of my body."—(Signed) Edward F. McCullough, 249 River St., Mattapan. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap heal skin eruptions, clear away pimples, and form a most valuable household treatment for sores, burns, etc. Sold by all druggists.

MISS CHASTEN'S RECITAL AT NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY

Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—Miss Agnes Chasten, of 602 Chestnut street, Wilmington, N. C., had a place last Wednesday evening on the programme of a concert by advanced students of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, where for some time past she has been studying the pianoforte. Her selection, the Chopin Scherzo in C sharp minor, was very favorably received by an audience that filled Jordan Hall of the Conservatory building. Miss Chasten is a pupil of George Proctor, who was graduated from the New England Conservatory in 1892 and who later studied with Leschetizky at Vienna. These concerts, such as the one at which she appeared, are held at occasional intervals during the season at America's oldest and largest conservatory and the opportunity to be named on a programme is highly prized among the nearly 3,000 students of the institution.

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 29.—The principal nuptial event of the year here was the marriage of William F. Genheimer, an Ohioan now residing in Roanoke, Va., to Miss Sallie Stuart Shaw, daughter of Solicitor and Mrs. H. E. Shaw, of Kinston, in Atkinson Memorial Presbyterian church here Wednesday evening shortly after 6 o'clock. Although admission was by card, the church was filled to overflowing. There were two score people in the bridal party. The gowns were magnificent. Friends and relatives of the couple were present from several states. A chorus rendered the music. Rev. Geo. B. Hanrahan performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white satin with trimmings of lace and pearls, with veil and cap decorated with lilies of the valley and Scotch heather. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Shaw, sister of the bride, and Dr. D. N. Twyman, of Appomattox, Va., was best man. There were a number of honorary matrons and maids in the bridal procession. Mr. and Mrs. Genheimer are now touring the North. The bridegroom is an official of the Norfolk & Western Railroad. Mrs. Genheimer is known throughout this State and is locally prominent socially.

THE BAKERY SHOP WILL AWARD EXCELLENT PRIZES

"Man can live without friends, man can live without books, but show me the man that can live without cooks." The women of Sorosis wonder if the men of Wilmington realize what fine cooks their mothers, wives and sisters are. An opportunity will be given all to show their skill with "the good things that mother used to make."

The bakery shop of the Corn and Agricultural Show will offer some fine prizes in this department, and as the success of exhibits depends upon the number of entries, it is hoped that everybody will donate some produce of their skill. As the prizes that are offered are valuable and things that every housekeeper desires, all articles sent in will be considered as contributions to the "Made in Wilmington" movement.

The following prizes will be on display in Honnet's window after Monday: For the best pound cake, silver cake knife; for the best layer cake, oblong silver casserole; for the best loaf of bread, silver toast rack; for the best dozen rolls, round silver casserole; for the best dozen beaten biscuits, silver cake knife.

To all girls under 18 years of age, a prize consisting of a pair of gold lingerie clasps is offered for the best dozen cookies, and for the best dozen crullers, a pair of gold lingerie clasps.

The first five prizes are open to any adult who may desire to compete, and the second two to any girl under 18.

ENJOYABLE AND UNIQUE HALLOWE'EN GIVEN.

The Hallowe'en party at the Young Women's Christian Association last night was a most enjoyable affair and was attended by several hundred members of the association and their friends. The party was unique in plan and every feature was carried out in a most pleasing manner. There was only one hitch in the programme when well towards the close of the evening, the lights both in the main building and in the gymnasium suddenly went out. An investigation showed that the heavy demand for electricity had caused two of the fuses to be burned out. The trouble was quickly remedied and the merriment proceeded without further abatement.

The main building was most attractively decorated. As the guests arrived they were cordially greeted by two ghostly persons. In the sitting room, which was decorated with lanterns of quaint design, the ancient games of Hallowe'en were played and also in the rest room, which was decorated with autumn leaves. The hall was decorated to represent a spider web in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

In the side yard hundreds of Japanese lanterns added their soft glow to produce a weird effect upon those who came to the tent of the fortune teller to have their future career outlined.

There were 88 girls and young ladies in the grand march to the gymnasium. They were dressed in the most quaint and laugnable manner imaginable and those who witnessed it declared that the march was the most wonderful sight they had ever seen. Miss Elizabeth LeGwin was given the prize for being the tallest, Miss Mary Vann for being the most unique and Miss Christine Schulken for being the funniest. After reaching the gymnasium, the masks were removed and the four gymnasium classes had contests. There were four events and as each class won one event, no prize was awarded. An amusing feature was the dancing of the Virgina reel backwards by a group of girls, and a weird ghost dance by another group.

After the contests in the gymnasium, refreshments consisting of hot chocolate and doughnuts was served.

The Junior members of the association will have a party on the same order this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock which promises to be a most enjoyable affair.

ATTRACTIVE PRIZES FOR BEST TOWNSHIP EXHIBITS.

Executive Committee and Chairmen of Corn Show Meet This Afternoon.

Announcement was made yesterday that $10 in gold would be given for the best township exhibit in the Corn and Agricultural Show in November and that a second prize of $5 in gold would be given for the second best township exhibit. It was also decided yesterday to offer a banner to the county having the best all round exhibit in the Show. There are nine counties in the territory that will be covered by the show this year and it is planned to make the banner competitive each year, the county winning it this year keeping it until next year.

The ladies of Sorosis are working hard in making their preparations for the event and have arranged an attractive list of prizes for the exhibits which will be given under their supervision.

TO HOLD OPEN AIR SERVICE.

Rev. J. J. D. Hall Preached Inspiring Sermon at Church of Good Shepherd.

Rev. J. J. D. Hall, who has been conducting services at the Church of the Good Shepherd this week, preached another inspiring sermon to a large congregation last night, taking as his text Second Corinthians 6:1. Announcement was made that Mr. Hall would conduct an open air service at Front and Market streets this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. A cottage prayer service will be held at the home of Mrs. Louise Rivenbark, on 14th street, between Castle and Queen, this afternoon at 3 o'clock and services will be held at the church tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. Hall is an able preacher and his sermons have made a deep impression.

Mr. Hall took as his subject last night, "Working Together With God." He named as the first qualification for working with God as being a straight life stating that a crooked life cannot work with God. A miracle must take place in every life in order to be of service to God.

"How big is your God?" he asked. "He made the world and He can make you over again. St. Peter half surrendered fell as if a bullet had struck him before the pointed finger of a little maid. Baptized with the Holy Ghost, he turned Jerusalem upside down and created a big sensation."

The speaker declared that he was not afraid of sensation but he was mortally afraid of stagnation. The only difference between some churches and a cemetery, he declared, is that the latter has the servic of an undertaker while the former are in need of one. There are more tombstones in some churches, he stated, than in many cemeteries.

He did not mince words in his severe condemnation of those who prefer a cool and calm religion. As for himself he declared that he never intended to act as if he were dead until he was sent to the cemetery. He referred to St. Paul who dropped bombs and submarines on Ephesus, which caused great surprise to the quiet church people. He eulogized John Wesley, who went crashing and smashing into Canterbury and York.

It is not hard to live a Christian life, no more so than it is for a mother to love her child. The hard life is the sinful life. He closed with a powerful appeal for men and women to turn to righteousness.

Only good wheat can produce good flour. Only the finest wheat can make the finest flour—Valier's Dainty Flour is made from the very best variety of soft winter wheat that is grown.

It is milled slowly to retain full baking quality of the flour and sifted through silk to get fineness. Sometimes it costs a trifle more by the sack, but always it costs less in use, because it makes more baking.

Valier's Romance Flour is Valier's Dainty Flour with self-rising ingredients mixed in accurate proportions. Requires no salt or baking powder.

TON RISES EXCITEDLY

January Delivery Closed at $12.25—List Generally Gained From 31 to 34 Points—Closed Steady.

New York, Oct. 29.—Renewal of bull support caused an excited advance in the cotton market today with January contracts selling up to 12.29 or 38 points above yesterday's close. That delivery closed 12.25 and the general list was finally steady within 3 or 4 points of the best or at a net gain of from 31 to 34 points.

There seemed to be no particular item in the day's news to account for the upward movement, but it was rumored that former prominent bull leaders had re-entered the market.

The market recovered the bulk of yesterday's loss at the opening first prices being 21 to 30 points higher. Relatively steady cables and the stronger ruling of sterling exchange helped the advance, which was also encouraged by private crop estimates ranging around 11,000,000 bales. Spot houses were considerable sellers on the advance but offerings were readily absorbed and the high point was reached in the late trading when December sold at 12.15, March at 12.49 and May 12.62 or 36 to 38 points higher.

Rumors that leading bull interests had sent out many telegrams late yesterday advising purchases of cotton, and that they planned to insert advertisements in the Southern papers on Sunday setting forth their expectations of ultimately much higher prices, probably added to the nervousness of recent sellers, and stop orders were uncovered on the advance. After the first rush of buying orders, however, trading was comparatively moderate with general sentiment more or less unsettled.

Futures closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Thursday's Losses Recovered—Net Gain of 36 to 40 Points.

New Orleans, Oct. 29.—The bull element had full control of the cotton market today and boosted prices 40 to 44 points above yesterday's close, thus recovery the slump of $2.00 a bale which marked yesterday's trading. The close was at a net gain of 36 to 40 points.

The opening was higher chiefly because of the determined buying by leaders on the long side. This buying, according to exchange gossip, really started yesterday. Outsiders were quick to catch the change in the trend of the market, about the most sudden and startling of the season and their orders materially swelled the volume of buying.

Sellers of yesterday covered in a large way. The dominant idea on the long side appeared to be that yesterday's reaction went too far and that shorts had over-sold themselves. The market closed steady.

Closing bids: December 11.99; January 12.15; March 12.37; May 12.53; July 12.62.

Spot cotton steady, unchanged; middling 11.75; sales on the spot 590, to arrive 1,570.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Close Was Weak, but Prices of Wheat Made Net Advance.

Chicago, Oct. 29. — Official announcement that Great Britain was not engaged in any peace negotiations whatever helped to give decided strength most of the time today to the wheat market here. The close, although weak, was 1⅞@2 to 2⅜@2¼c. net higher, with December at 1.02⅝ and May at 1.04⅛@¼.

Corn finished ⅞ off to ¼ up, oats with gains of ¼ to ½, and provisions at an advance of 5 to 7½ to 55c.

Grain and provisions closing:

Wheat — December, 1.02⅝; May, 1.04¼.

Corn—December, 58; May, 59⅝.

Oats—December, 38⅞; May, 39½.

Pork — December, 14.60; January, 16.75.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF COTTON

Market Nervous and Irregular—Violent Fluctuations in Prices With Heavy Losses.

New York, Oct. 29.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and irregular during the week with prices fluctuating violently between the bullish view of crop and domestic trade prospects and the bearish view of the export situation combined with apprehension that accumulating Southern supplies might cause weakness among interior holders.

Failure of the census report, showing only 5,713,347 bales ginned to October 18, to inspire aggressive buying, strengthened bearish assumptions that small crop estimates had been discounted, and prices broke sharply during the middle of the week. Favorable weather, and increased estimates of the western belt yield, as well as the small export movement, scarcity of ocean freight room, and unsettled sterling exchange contributed to the decline.

The decline for 11.85 for January or about $6.75 per bale below the high level of the season, there was renewed bull support and the market today recovered nearly $2 per bale of its recent losses, on a reiteration of small crop view and continued absence of general pressure of spot offerings.

Sterling exchange firmness toward the end of the week, as well as private crop estimates of around 11,000,000 figured in the improvement but buying seemed largely from shorts or former bull leaders.

New England spinners were reported to be buying freely on call during the decline, but this demand was less in evidence on today's rally on an idea that the decline had put the market in a position to be again influenced by bullish factors.

RAILROADS AGAIN PROMINENT

Stock Dealings Yesterday Were Heavy in Every Part of the List—Rise Began at the Opening.

New York, Oct. 29.—Greater strength, breadth and activity characterized today's stock market operations than at any session since the recent reversal in specialties. Dealings comprehended every part of the list, railways again assuming unusual prominence.

The advance began at the opening and was in the nature of a resumption of yesterday's late rise. Steel led the market, except during the forenoon when Reading, Erie and Anaconda Copper dominated. In the afternoon buying orders lifted steel to 87 5-8, a gain of 2 1-2, and within a slight fraction of its recent best.

Coppers responded to an increase in the price of the refined metal with gains of 2 to 3 points, Anaconda making a new record at 83, a gain of 3 1-2.

All the war shares participated in today's rise except Bethlehem Steel, which was extremely inactive and closed at 540, a decline of 19 points.

Among the more extensive gains in specialties were Studebaker up 11 1-2; Willys Overland, 10; Baldwin Locomotive, 9; and Maxwell, 5 1-2.

Canadian Pacific led the rails, opening at a substantial gain and steadily rising 9 1-2 points to 185 1-2.

Erie were again a marked feature together with New York Central and Norfolk & Western. All the stocks comprising the cotton carrying roads were strong.

Further strength was shown by foreign exchange, demand sterling rising well over yesterday's close.

Wabash issues were a feature of the bond market, together with New York Central debentures. Total sales, par value, aggregated $4,855,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call.

DUN'S BUSINESS REVIEW SHOWS INCREASED PROGRESS

Brighter Day Has Definitely Dawned. Confidence Strengthened.

New York, Oct. 29.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Not only is there no step backward in general business, but each week the pendulum of progress swings over wider area and confidence is further strengthened.

"Recent vagaries of the weather have not been conducive to the best results in retail distribution, yet substantial gains are nevertheless apparent in this direction. The forward movement gathers momentum in spite of various opposing influences, such as the unstability of foreign exchange, the congestion of freight at terminal points and continued dissension in the ranks of labor, and, while expansion is still most pronounced in war order lines, on the whole conditions and prospects are much less checkered and irregular than formerly.

"Few discordant notes mar the cheerful tone of reports from the leading centers and trades, and since popular impressions control events, the notable improvement in sentiment has an important bearing on the future trend of affairs.

"No one now doubts that the brighter day has definitely dawned and the change of spirit finds expression in the launching of many deferred undertakings, while more new enterprises are being started than for several years past. Instead of the marked hesitancy and caution previously manifest, large projects are conceived and carried into effect in a manner that attests the increased confidence pervading the commercial world.

CASES NOT DEVELOPED

No Additional Arrests in the Conspiracy Case Contemplated at Present—Fay's Story Still Under Investigation.

New York, Oct. 29.—Beyond asserting that the government was quietly working to trace others implicated in the alleged conspiracy to destroy ships laden with war munitions for the Allies, Federal authorities said today there had been no actual developments in the cases of the five men already arrested. United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall said no new arrests were contemplated for the present.

The cases of Robert Fay, who confessed to the conspiracy after saying he was a German army lieutenant sent to this country to blow up ships, and Walter L. Scholz, his brother-in-law, together with the cases of three other men named as having promoted the plots, probably will go before the Federal grand jury the latter part of next week.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO MISS CAVELL IS HELD

Great Throng Attends at St. Paul's Cathedral.

Life Guards' Band Played Military Dirges as Congregation Gathered and Service Was Closed With National Anthem.

London, Oct. 29.—At service at St. Paul's Cathedral today in memory of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was executed in Brussels, was attended by a throng which recalled the funeral of Lord Roberts at the Cathedral almost a year ago. Although represented by Earl Howe, Queen Mother Alexandro attended the service in person.

King George and Queen Mary were represented by Edward W. Wallington, groom-in-waiting to the King; Lord Kitchener by Surgeon General Sir Alfred Keogh, director general of the British medical service.

Among the other prominent persons present were the Premier and other members of the cabinet, representatives of Canada and the other dominions, the Belgian minister and Admiral Lord Charles Beresford. Miss Cavell's mother, other members of the family, and deputations of various Red Cross, ambulance and nursing organizations also attended the service.

As the congregation gathered the life guards' band in khaki played a number of military dirges, ending with Chopin's funeral march. The hymn "Abide With Me," which was sung by the congregation, was repeated by Miss Cavell and the chaplain who visited her on the night before her execution.

NORFOLK OFFICIAL HERE.

Inspect Fireboat "Atlantic," of Wilmington Fire Department.

Mr. Y. Purdie, chairman of the board of control in Norfolk, Va., and Mr. R. F. McLaughlin, chief of the fire department in the same city, were in Wilmington yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the fire boat Atlantic. They were accompanied on the trip of inspection by Fire Chief Charles Schnibben and Councilman L. M. Bunting, in charge of the Wilmington Fire Department. While in the city they also called upon Mayor Moore. They returned home last night.

Both officials were much impressed with the craft, and it is their intention to purchase similar boats for the city of Norfolk.

"In looks a small boat; in service a wonder, throbbing with power," said Mr. Purdie, after seeing the Atlantic in action. There is a saving of 75 per cent. over the steam tug fireboat, Mr. Purdie stated, and eventually he believes all coast cities will have the gasoline craft, similar to the type in use in Wilmington.

ance. There were 220 out of a possible 253, not counting the primary grades.

Opening Formalities.

Upon the arrival of the train from Wilmington, the West-Whitlock band at once began to strike up music and the school children and hundreds of other people gathered about the platform in Brown's Grove, just north of the A. C. L. tracks and west of the high school building. Hon. J. A. Brown, was master of ceremonies and first introduced Mayor Ira Lennon, of Chadbourn, who in his pleasing manner told all the visitors the city was theirs for the day and to forget all formality and take possession and have as good a time as possible.

Mayor Lennon was followed by Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Acme, who responded eloquently to their welcome and took occasion to enlighten Columbus county people on many points regarding their county schools and their progress in recent years. He dared the assertion that at least 90 per cent of the Columbus county people were in favor of compulsory education, and that they had learned the lesson of better living by knowing more.

The next speaker was Hon. J. A. Hartness, of Iredell county, who was there, it was said, in the interest of his candidacy for the office of State Treasurer as successor to Mr. B. R. Lacy.

Prof. F. T. Wooten, superintendent of Columbus county schools, followed, telling of his experiences in building the schools up to better standards and how the work was so limitless and how he needed the support of the people of the county. Prof. C. R. Spencer, principal of the Whiteville High School, closed the morning programme, after which all were given liberty to do as they pleased until the afternoon activities were begun.

More than 2,000 school children marched in the parade, which left the high school building at 1 o'clock. It included representations of 26 schools and townships together, and a large number of these were led by beautifully decorated floats. The schools represented were led in the procession by Mayor Ira Lennon, who was followed by Chief Benton, of the city. The whole procession was preceded by mounted marshals, under the direction of Chief Benton. Then immediately followed the West-Whitlock band from Wilmington, which played many lively airs during the procession. Then came County Superintendent F. T. Wooten. The schools represented came in the following order: Whiteville High School, Tabor, Hallsboro, Armour, Acme-Newberlin, Evergreen, Fair Bluff, Cerro Gordo, Bolton. The townships were represented in the following order: Bug Hill, Bolton, Bogue, Chadbourn (except Chadbourn High School) Fair Bluff, Lees, Ransom, Tatums, Western Prong, Welches Creek, Waccamaw, Williams, Whiteville and Chadbourn High School. The route of the parade took in the entire town.

A number of the agricultural exhibits were carried in the parade.

The prizes were won as follows:

Teacher exhibiting the best float, Professor Williams, of Chadbourn, $5 knife; school exhibiting the best float, Chadbourn, $5 cash; school exhibiting second best float, Washington Avenue, $10 clock; teacher showing best school work, Miss Elizabeth Parker, of Hallsboro, $4 in perfume; school making the best visiting representation, Hallsboro, $10 in cash; school making report of best attendance, New Life school (reported absolutely perfect attendance), $10 in gold.

Mr. D. R. Connor won a prize of $2 for being the oldest man found by the committee, he is 84 years, 11 months and 20 days; the oldest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Patterson, have been married 54 years, seven months and two days.

KING GEORGE INJURED WHEN THROWN BY HORSE

Severely Bruised But Believed Not Seriously.

Was Inspecting the British Armies in France When Cheers of Troops Frightened and Caused the Horse to Fall.

London, Oct. 29.—King George was thrown from his horse and severely bruised Thursday while inspecting troops at the British front in France. The official announcement, given out today, indicates the King's condition is not believed serious. It follows:

"While the King Thursday morning was inspecting his army in the field his horse, excited by the cheers of the troops, reared up and fell. The King was bruised severely and will be confined to bed for the present.

"The King had a fair night with some sleep. The temperature is now 99.2 and pulse 75. His majesty's general condition has improved and no complications have arisen."

A Reuter dispatch from British headquarters describing the accident says the king had just completed an inspection of one corps and was on his way to inspect another when cheers from the troops, who threw their caps in the air, caused his horse to rear. The King managed to regain control of the horse, which, however, reared again and fell over backward, throwing the King to the ground.

He was immediately assisted to a motor car and while going away was able to return the salutes of the troops as he sat in the corner of the car.

OBJECTION IS RAISED TO CONTINENTAL ARMY

By Committees of Two Militia Organizations.

Oppose Any Defense Plan Will Displace State Troops—Garrison Explains Details—To Continue the Discussion.

Washington, October 29. — Secretary Garrison today encountered some oppositon to the proposal for a continental army as a part of the administration's national defense plans, from members of the executive committee of the National Guard Association and of the National Military Board, an advisory body composed of militia officers. After a conference called by Secretary Garrison and which lasted several hours, is was indicated that no agreement had been reached.

The board and the committee will hold regular sessions here for a week. It was learned that the guardsmen vigorously opposed any national defense plan which proposed to displace the state troops as the organized citizens soldiery behind the regular army.

The view was urged that adequate support of the National Guard by the Federal Government and the public would assure all that the Continental army plan was intended to produce.

Federalization of the National guard was regarded as a primary step to this end.

Mr. Garrison at a conference tonight explained the War Department's plans in detail and department officials are hopeful that the National Guard leaders will agree to the programme before the discussions are concluded.

a torpedo was not in accordance with the existing instructions which provide that large passenger steamers are only to be torpedoed after previous warning and after the rescuing of passengers and crew. The failure to observe the instructions was based on an error which is at any rate comprehensible and the repetition of which appears to be out of the question, in view of the more explicit instructions issued in the meantime. Moreover the commanders of the submarines have been reminded that it is their duty to exercise greater care and to observe carefully the orders issued."

TO SUPPLY AT SEAGATE

Rev. O. N. Marshall Leaves for Short Visit to Relatives.

Rev. O. N. Marshall, who has served very efficiently as the pastor of the Baptist churches at Seagate and Masthis morning for Henderson to visit relatives. He will be away for about ten days and on next Sunday will attend a church dedication in Durham.

The Baptist churches at Masonboro and Seagate have been combined into one charge with Winter Park and beginning about December 15 Rev. J. A. Clark, of Louisville, Ky., who was recently called as pastor, will assume charge of the churches. Mr. Marshall has been asked to supply the church at Seagate for the present and expects to remain here until later in the fall. His work has been very successful during the year he has served as pastor of the churches and his many friends will regret that within the near future, he will most likely leave Wilmington.

ties was discussed and every pastor was urged to secure the organization of a Christian Endeavor Society or some similar organization in his congregation. Wednesday evening during the annual week of prayer in January was set aside for consideration of the Sabbath and family relief.

Unusual Growth.

A significant report was that of the evangelistic committee. The report showed 500 more professions of faith and 100 more additions to the church than any previous year. The work of the general and local evangelists was summarized as follows: 3,858 sermons preached; 2,765 professions of faith; 1,252 additions to Presbyterian church; 81 additions to other churches; 17 Sunday schools organized; 10 churches organized; $2,149 raised for the Synod's work. Appropriations to the amount of $14,285 have been made for the year and Synod apportioned $20,000 to the churches to sustain this work.

The general evangelists, Rev. William Black and Rev. O. C. Jones, and the superintendent, Rev. A. W. Crawford, were re-elected.

"TWIN BEDS" CLEVER FARCE

Strong and Capable Company Seen at Academy Last Evening.

Hallowe'en parties, wrestling matches and other attractions combined last evening to prevent many of the theatregoers of Wilmington from seeing "Twin Beds' one of the cleverest farce comedies ever presented at the Academy of Music. But those who were fortunate enough to be present do not regret missing any of the other attractions.

Unique throughout, "Twin Beds" is a radical departure from conventional lines of farce comedy, yet its humor is entirely clean and wholesome. The story is a satire on apartment life in New York city, and is built up around the experiences of three married couples residing in the same apartment house.

In a cast so uniformly strong as that presenting "Twin Beds" here, and where the action of the play is so evenly divided among all the members of the cast, can be left in doubt as to who is really the star, and to give that credit to one would be to do injustice to several others. Between Nancy Fair, as Blanche Hawkins, the frivolous, pleasure-loving little newly-wedded wife, and Antoinette Rochte, as Signora Monti, there is little to choose, for both are genuine artists. Louis Alberni, as Signor Monti, handles his part so that it is difficult to see how it could be improved upon, and his work in the drunken scene in the second act falls little short of a masterpiece. William L. Nolte as Harry Hawkins Wyrley Birch as Andrew Larkin are also excellent in their respective parts, and Bess Stafford as Nora and Mary Barry as Amanda Davis hold up their parts in splendid manner.

"Twin Beds" is well staged and faultlessly presented, and its popularity is not to be wandered at after having seen it.
